Zed Lee Foy

Principal

Zed Lee Foy has successfully completed his second year as Principal of Boise High School.

He was graduated from Saluda High School, entering the University of South Carolina in 1917, receiving his B.A. degree in 1921. He received his Master's degree after spending four summers at Columbia University. He taught in the high school at Laurens, South Carolina, and was principal of the high school in Easley, South Carolina. He was principal of Rocky Mount High School before coming to Boise.

Mr. Foy continued the advisory system, during which all assemblies, class and club programs are held. This activity period is also used for supervised study.

To reduce tardiness of students, Mr. Foy has installed a detention period after school. This is proving to be successful in accomplishing its purpose. It was at Mr. Foy's instigation that an improvement has been made in the student voting system. Elimination of candidates by preliminary voting before electing the officers of the classes has been tried for the first time this year with marked success.

As Principal Mr. Foy is chairman of all assemblies.

Mr. Foy's secretary is Mrs. Alice Smith, who takes charge of enrollment and credits of the students. Miss Mabel Nye, assistant secretary, has charge of issuing daily and special bulletins and also does secretarial work for the school. Mrs. Blanche Jackson has charge of attendance and also of the detention class after school.

Miss Otness

Dean of Girls

Miss Clara Otness, Dean of Girls in Boise High School, has made many friends and met personally most of the girls in the one year she has been in Boise.

She attended the public schools of Moscow, Idaho, and was graduated from the University. Previous to her acceptance of the position of Dean of Girls in Boise High, she taught in Blackfoot, Idaho. She has also done commercial work. She is faculty advisor of the Girls' Club, and has taken an interest in the election of Honor Girls.

The new Dean is to be congratulated for the influential place she has held in the activities of Boise High School and for the affection and admiration of the entire Student Body which she has gained during her first year's work here.

Dean of Boys

Loren H. Basler, Dean of Boys and athletic coach, has taught in Boise since 1926, taking over the new position of Dean in 1929, since he had proved himself well-fitted to advise the boys.

He attended public school in Grants Pass, Oregon, and studied at Willamette University, the University of California, Oregon State College, and Washington State College.

Mr. Basler is Director of Athletics, coach of football, basketball and track, and advisor of the "B" Club.

He is chairman of the Awards Committee, the Athletic Committee, and the Student Employment Committee. He also served on the Assembly and Finance Committees.

Inez Woesner

English

Mitchell, Stanberry, Packenham
Semple, Woesner, Mayer
Huse, Moore, Curtis

The English Department offers a more diversified course than any other. H. E. Packenham, head of the department, teaches English and is debate coach. He is chairman of the Alumni Committee. Dwight E. Mitchell teaches journalism and is advisor of The Boise High Lights and The Courier. He is serving on the Education, Public Relations and Finance Committees, and is secretary of the Awards Committee. Miss Helen Mayer teaches dramatics, coaches, and is a member of the Awards and Assembly Committees. Miss Katherine Semple has classes in creative writing, grammar and literature. She serves on the Awards and Public Relations Committees. Miss Emily Stewart, Mrs. Carrie Curtis, Miss Katherine Morgan, Miss Esther Huse, Miss Inez Woesner, and Miss Helen Moore teach grammar, composition and literature. Miss Stewart is chairman of the National Honor Society and a member of the Awards and Education Committees. Mrs. Curtis is secretary of the National Honor Society Committee, and a member of the Advisory and Social Committees. Miss Morgan is on the Auditorium and Assembly Committees. Miss Woesner is on the Alumni, Junior Honor Society, and Student Organization Committees. The Advisory, Auditorium and Junior Honor Society Committees claim Miss Moore. Miss Huse is chairman of the Junior Honor Society Committee and a member of the Student Organization and Advisory Committees. Miss Helen Miller is school librarian, and is secretary of the Education Committee.

E. J. Stewart

Science

*Mitchell, Hughes, Burt, Bauer, Pollard
Lorenz, Sawyer, Coffin*

Classes offered in the Science Department are chemistry, physics, botany, zoology, general science, biology and physiography.

John H. Sawyer, head of the department, has three classes in physics and serves on the National Honor Society and Education Committees.

Willis Coffin teaches three classes of chemistry, serving also on the National Honor Society and Student Government Committees. Classes in zoology are taught by C. P. Pollard. He is a member of the Advisory and Auditorium Committees. Mr. Pollard is also faculty advisor of the boys' tennis tournament. Paul Ensign and La Verne Hughes have classes in botany. Mr. Ensign serves on the Auditorium and Junior Honor Society Committees. Mr. Hughes is a member of the Student Government and Student Organization Committees.

Harry Mitchell has classes in general science and physiography and is on the Auditorium and Social Committees. Miss Genevieve Dartt also teaches general science.

John Bauer is instructor in agriculture. He serves on the Athletics, Social and Finance Committees and is faculty advisor of the Future Farmers of America in Boise High School. The agriculture students receive practical experience on the high school farm in charge of Joe Schuurman. In livestock judging the boys have won two loving cups and four medals this year, and in showing their livestock at fairs they have won a grand championship and a sweepstakes.

*Freer, Six, Lynn, Burt, Paul, Boosinger
Lukes, Marsh, Stewart, Bjornson*

Math and Commercial

Algebra, plane geometry, higher algebra, advanced higher algebra and solid geometry are the courses offered by the Mathematics Department of Boise High School.

Seth Freer, head of the department, A. J. Boosinger and Howard Paul serve on the Athletic Committee. Mr. Freer also serves on the National Honor Society Committee. Mr. Boosinger serves on the Social Committee and Mr. Paul and J. A. Burt serve on the Finance Committee, Mr. Burt also being a member of the Junior Honor Society and Social Committees. Miss Bernice Bjornson is a member of the Auditorium and Junior Honor Society Committees.

The Commercial Department offers a course that equips a student to obtain a position upon graduation. This is beneficial to students who must work their way through college. There are classes in writing and spelling, business English, commercial arithmetic, elementary business training, commercial geography, commercial law, bookkeeping, salesmanship, office practice, typewriting, and shorthand.

J. E. Six, head of the department, is on the Awards and Student Government Committees. Miss Minnie Lukes is on the Education and Awards Committee; Miss Ida Marsh, Education and National Honor Society Committees; Miss Grace Maberly, Alumni and Finance Committees; Miss Laura Lynn, Auditorium and National Honor Society Committees; and Miss Emily R. Stewart, Education and Student Employment Committees.

Foreign Languages

*Hogarth, McDonnell, Simmons
Wenstrom, Kiildson*

Foreign languages taught in high school give students an excellent foundation for further study in college and helps in a better understanding of English and its origin. Languages offered to Boise students are: Latin, eight semesters; French, six semesters; Spanish, four semesters. The department is made interesting by correspondence with French students and the study of French literature. In this way students learn to write as well as to speak the language. Miss Emma G. Simmons, head of the department, teaches French. She serves on the National Honor Society and Education Committees.

Miss Mary Ann Hogarth and Miss Evelyn Wenstrom teach classes in Latin grammar, Caesar, Cicero, and Virgil. Miss Hogarth is a member of the National Honor Society and Education Committees. She is also an advisor of the Boise High School Girl Reserves. Miss Wenstrom is on the Auditorium and Social Committees. Her hobby is flying and she has claim to the title of being the only licensed woman pilot in Idaho. To prove her skill as pilot, Miss Wenstrom flew an Aeronca monoplane to the Inland Empire Teachers' convention at Spokane April 8, 9 and 10.

Miss Karen Kiildsen, who returned to Boise High School last fall after a year's leave of absence in Europe, teaches Spanish, and is a member of the Alumni, Advisory and Student Government Committees. Harry McDonnell also teaches Spanish and serves on the Auditorium and Junior Honor Society Committees.

*Jeffrey, Wood, Berry
Cooper, Schuurman, Davis, Barnes, Hays*

History

In its history courses, Boise High School offers very interesting studies. Besides classes in American history, a requirement for graduation, ancient, medieval and modern European history, sociology, economics and occupations are taught.

Miss Deborah Davis, head of the department, teaches American history, and ancient and modern European history. Miss Grace Berry instructs classes in ancient history, sociology and occupations. Miss Marion Barnes has classes in American and modern European history and sociology; Hoyt Cooper, ancient and American history; Arthur Hays, American history and economics; Miss Blanche Jeffrey, American and ancient history.

Miss Davis serves on the Student Organization Committees; Miss Barnes, Auditorium, Junior Honor Society and Student Organization Committees; Mr. Hays, Advisory Committee; Miss Jeffery, National Honor Society and Student Organization Committees.

The course in occupations is compulsory for freshmen, but upper-classmen are also allowed to enroll in it. The purpose of this course is to help freshmen decide upon their life work and to plan their high school courses accordingly. Lawrence Wood and Mrs. Helen Schuurman are in charge of these classes. Mr. Wood serves on the Advisory and Assembly Committees. Mrs. Schuurman is a member of the Student Employment Committee and chairman of the Student Organization Committee. She also advises the Student Council.

Deye, Perkins, Chindgren, Chase, Rounds, Foltz, Fry
Hollingshead, Maberly, Paine, Keane, Jones, Lowry, Adelman

Vocational

The vocational subjects offered in Boise High School are many. Miss Josephine Keane has charge of the girls' physical training classes, is chairman of the May Fete, and serves on the Auditorium, Athletic and Finance Committees. Loren Basler, assisted by Frank Johnson, has charge of the boys' physical training classes. Lawrence Wood has classes in wrestling and Paul Ensign teaches tumbling.

Warren Adelman, head of the Industrial Arts Department, teaches classes in mechanical drawing and auto mechanics; R. F. Chindgren, W. T. Rounds and L. K. Perkins have classes in mechanical drawing and manual training. Mr. Perkins is director of the Boise High School orchestra and is on the Finance Committee. W. O. Lemon and Luther Straight have charge of the printing department, which prints The Boise High Lights, Interpreter, and many pamphlets and office forms for the school.

Miss Sarah Maberly, head of the home economics department, has charge of the cafeteria. Miss Carol Paine, Miss Beatrice Stalker, Miss Rachel Jones and Miss Edith Lowry are the other instructors.

The Music Department offers chorus, glee club, harmony, music appreciation, applied music and junior and senior orchestra. Donald Foltz has charge of the vocal work and Howard Deye instructs the orchestra and band.

Colonel G. W. Moses and Sergeant F. E. Chase, who are in charge of the R.O.T.C., give instruction in military science and tactics.

Robertson

Student Government

The Student Council and Faculty Committee cooperate in governing a student body of 1500. Kenneth Robertson is Student Body president. The Council members from the school-at-large are: Lee Dailey, Maxine Austin, Ross Pope and Dean Kloefer. Senior class councilmen are: Robert Krummes, Esther Flenner; junior class, William Ash, Lucille Nelson; sophomore class, Adelaide Scotland, Milton Thurber; freshman class, Ardis Simpson and Elizabeth Winstead.

The main project of the Council is a revision of Boise High School's Constitution. It also has revived the picture fund, sponsored directly a stunt night, and completed the chartering of all school clubs started by the 1930 Council.

Student Council

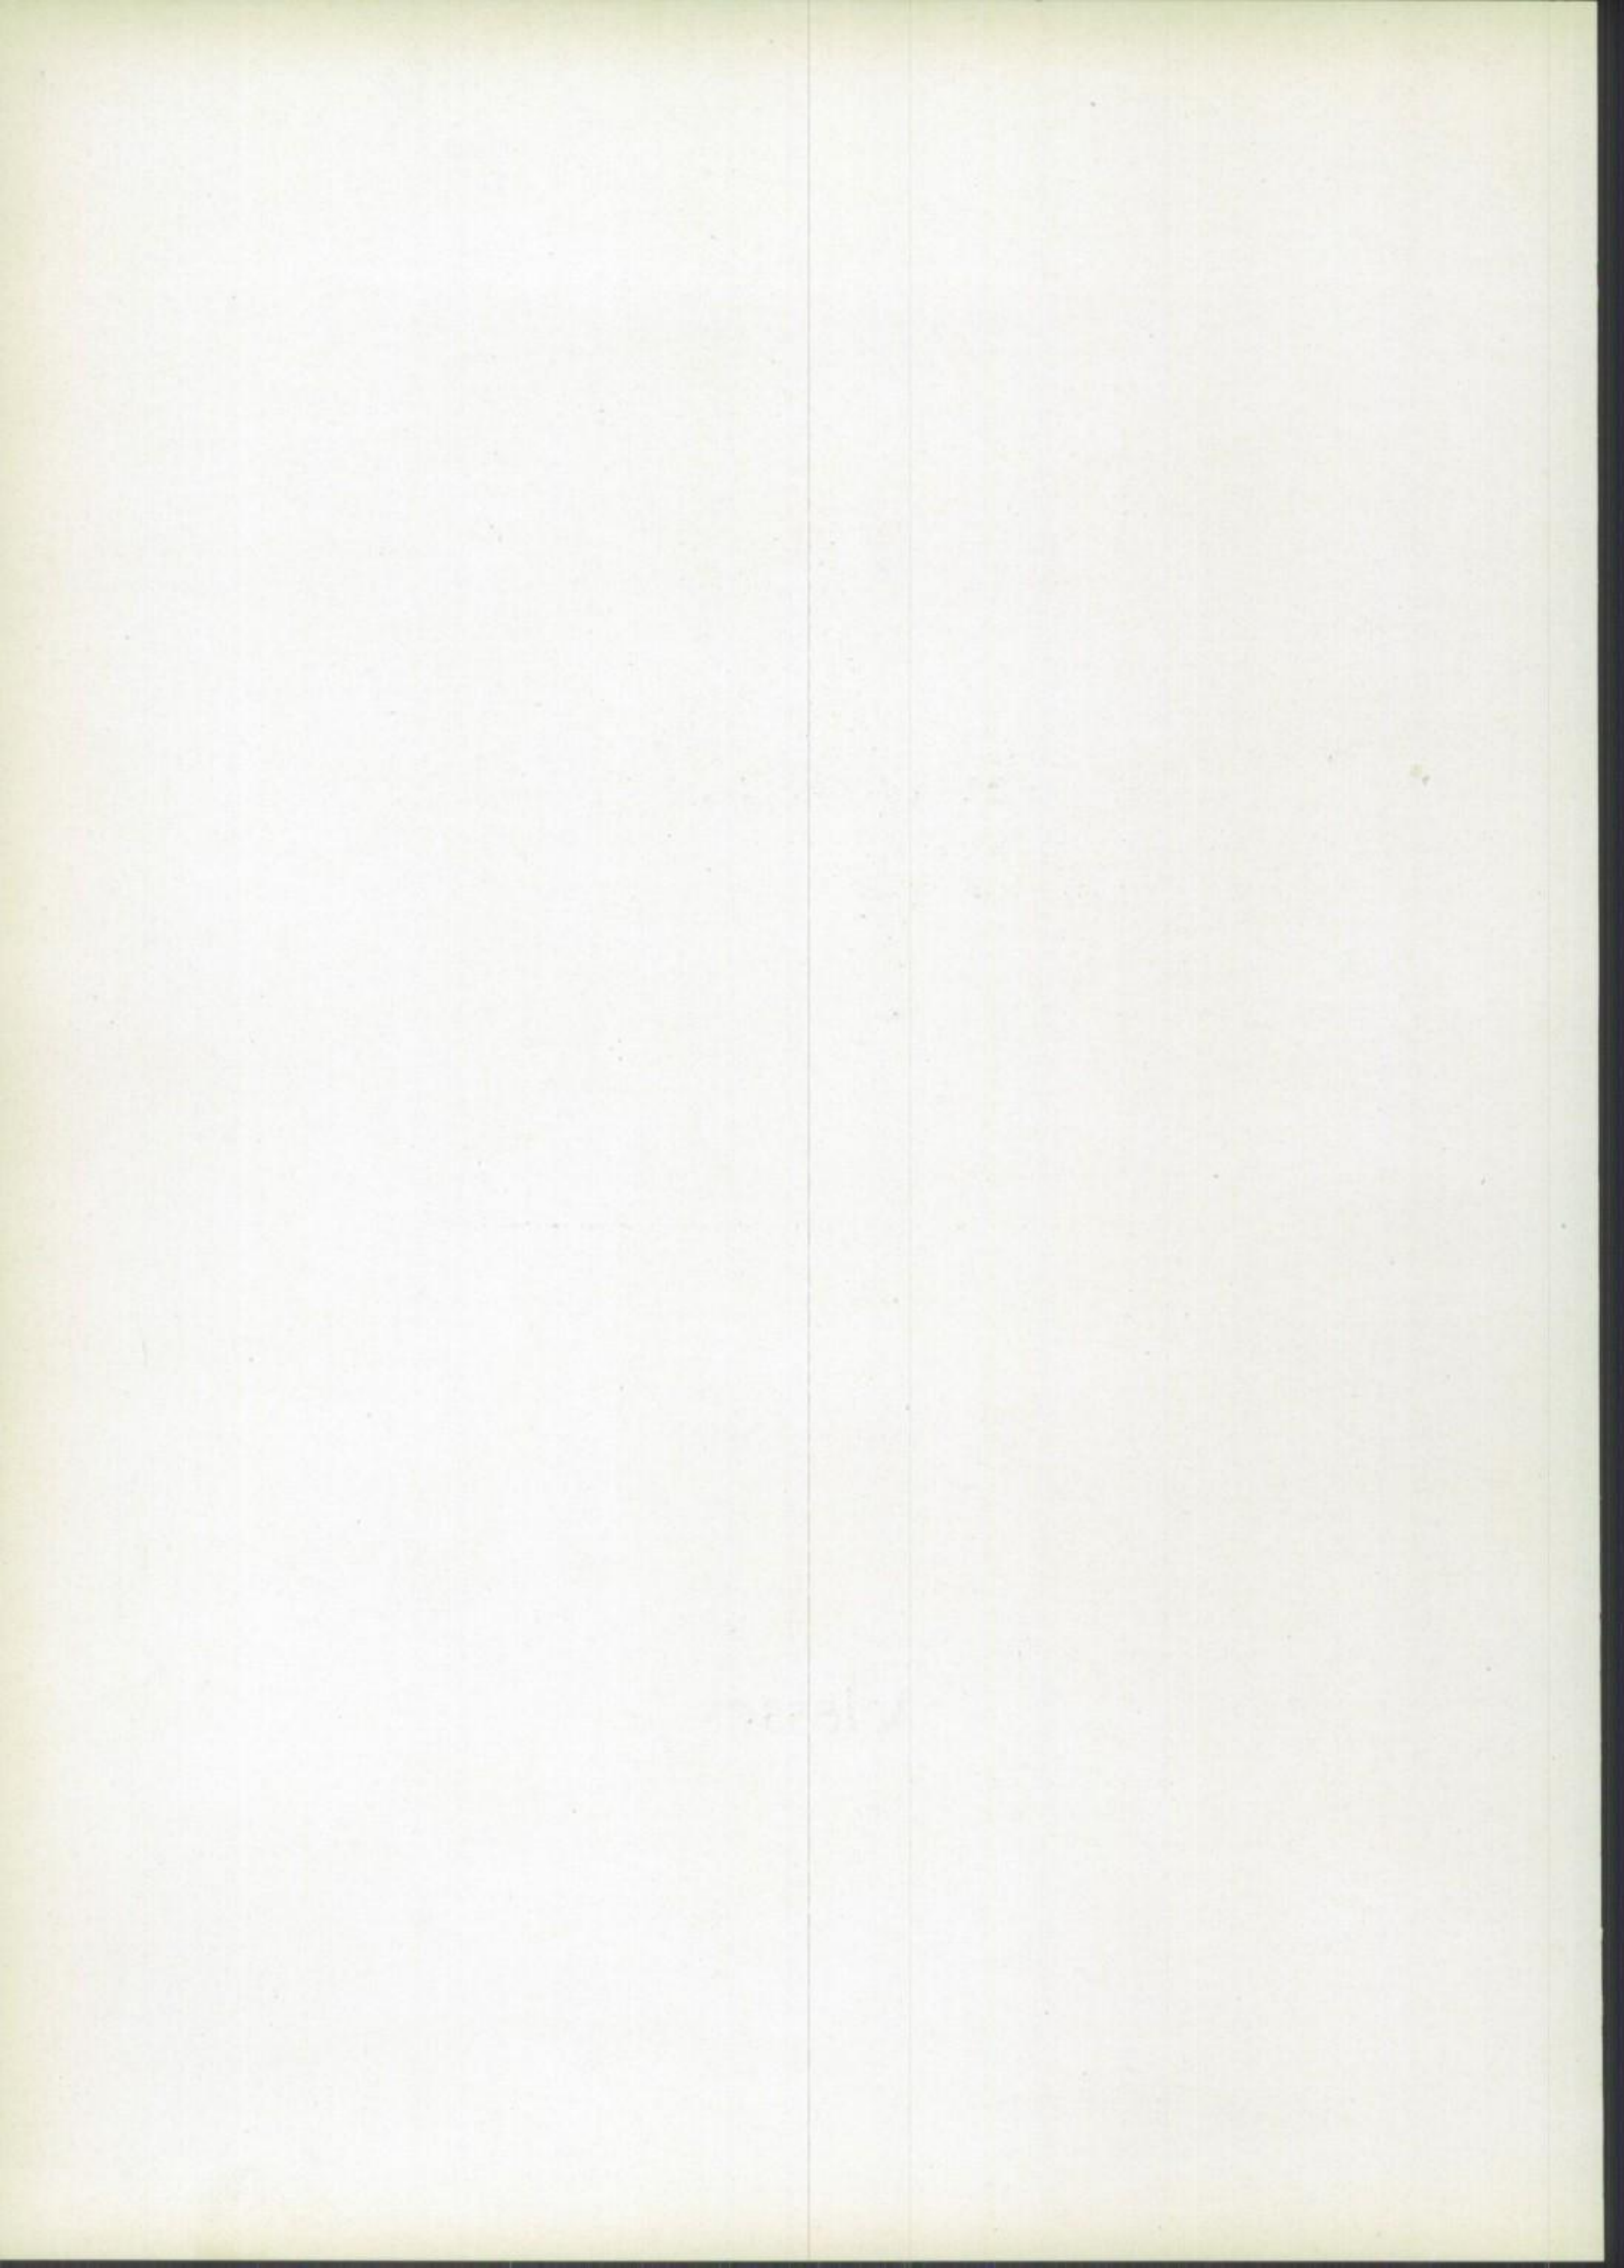

Burt

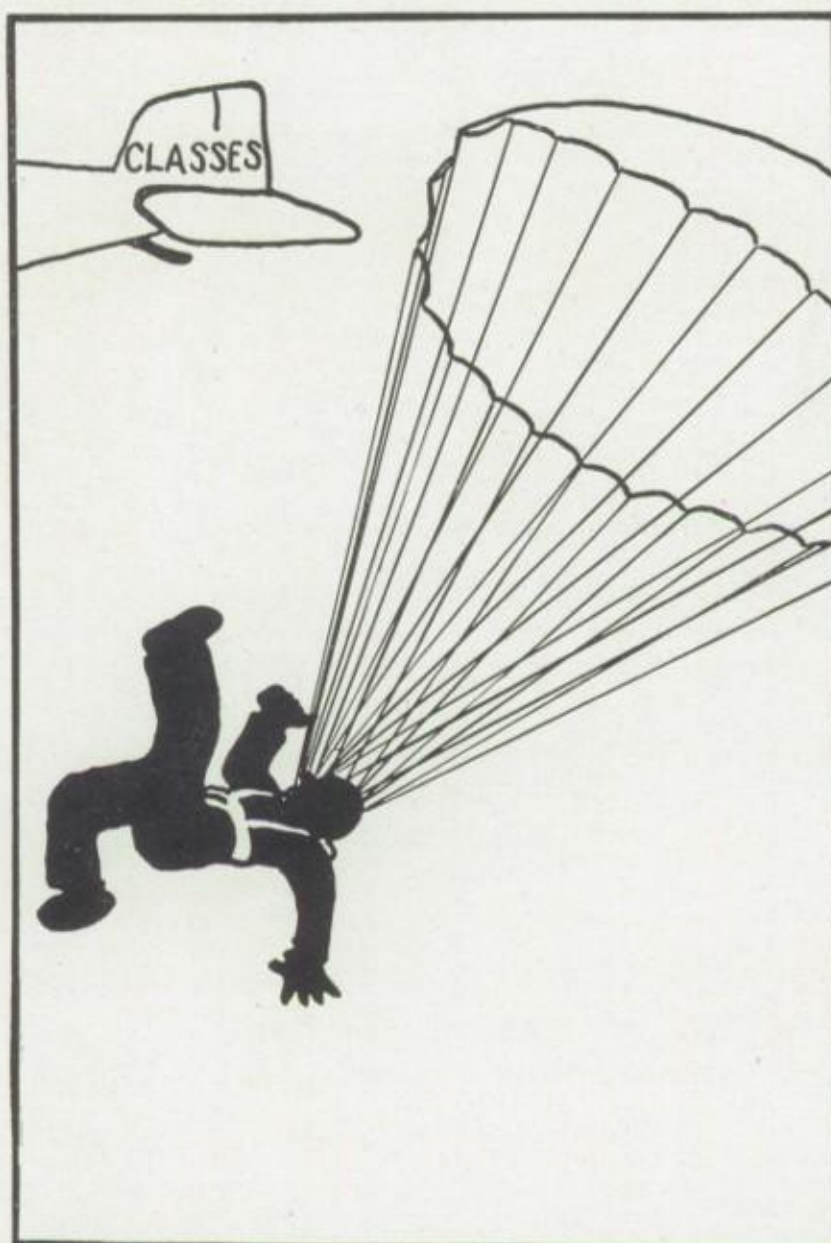

Faculty Committees

The Faculty Committees assist in governing the 1500 students of Boise High School. The Awards Committee, headed by Loren H. Basler, has charge of all awards given. The Finance Committee, of which J. E. Six is chairman, has charge of school finances and banking. J. A. Burt is treasurer of the Associated Student Body. The Assembly Committee has charge of assemblies. Miss Emily Stewart is chairman of the National Honor Society Committee. The Student Organization Committee assists the Student Council. Mrs. Helen Schuurman is chairman. Other committees are the Auditorium, Education, Alumni, Advisory, Public Relations, Parent-Teacher, Junior Honor Society, Student Government, and Social.

Classes

Forney, Matthews

The Class of Thirty-one

Harriet, satisfied now?—Whatcha mean, hon?—What do I mean, imagine that; I mean being a senior—Oh, that! I realize that it took you long enough to be a senior. Never mind, the first six years are always the hardest—I suppose I'm to take my hair down and weep—Aw, shuddup. Say, was I embarrassed! Talk about a fluffy duck with pink spots and a green tail! I thought I'd die when my relations asked me the history of our class, and I didn't know it—They didn't think you would, did they?—Well, since you're so good, perhaps you can tell me—Well, I says to Hoover, "Now, Herb," I says to him: We came in the big building of learning in 1927 with Elinor Lucas, president; Dick Forney, vice-president, and Bob McKaig, treasurer; Harriet Hitchcock and Effie Reynolds went to the Student Council—Aha, a faint glimmering of recollection bursts forth. Remember that Frosh Frolic? It was my first date, I was scared to death. It was a snitzy dance—Now in our second year, Elinor was president again; boy, did that girl rate! Maxine Austin was vice-president, John Ireton secretary, and Phil Falk treasurer. Dick Forney and Bill Ash went to the Student Council—In our junior year it was a riot—Maxine Austin was president, Bob Clark vice-president, Marvin Knox secretary, and Pon Miller treasurer. Dick Forney and John Ireton got out of all the advisory periods to go to the Student Council—Yeah, in the meantime we had some good debates—Yes, and in the meantime, will you shuddup and stop interrupting me?—Oke, but don't forget the Prom—That was the first date I had with you, how could I forget? All we did was argue—You're crazy, you're the one who argued—You sneak—Well, clam down, and talk about our senior year—Dick Forney is president. He's held a class office every year. He's been a member of the Dramatic and French Clubs for two years, was in "The Way of Youth," was president of the Hi-Y for two years, and was always an honor student—He was a First Lieutenant, too, in the R.O.T.C. and was on the rifle team—Dale Matthews is vice-president—Yeah, he went to Hailey High School for a year—He's a member and the curator of the History Club, besides being secretary of the Spanish Club and on the Honor Roll three years. He was president of his advisory and on the track team and a member of the "B" Club—James Prince is secretary of our class. He played baseball and basketball in his second and third years, was a member of the Hi-Y for two years, and was secretary last year; not only an honor student, but a Pep Hound and advisory president twice—John Ireton is treasurer. He's been a member of the Hi-Y for two years and president this year; made a commissioned officer in the R.O.T.C. and elected to the National Honor Society, and an advisory president four times—Bob Krummes and Esther Flenner went to the Student Council—Wasn't that cute? They go together, and everything—Well, that's over with, what else did we do? Ask me anything and I'll give you the lowdown—Oh, you're Professor Sees-All, Knows-Nothing, aren't you?—Don't get funny. Wasn't Senior Day sport? Some of those students looked so natural dressed up like tramps. And that assembly with everybody assuming the angle. Who won the prizes in the contest?—For the hard times, Virginia Goserud and Bob Chilton won, and for the old-fashioned, John Steward and Jane Peterson. What else did we do?—Sneak day was a darb. That show at the Rialto was slick, and I lost ten golf balls in the lake trying to play golf—Gee, wasn't the Prom perfect?—Yeah, I'll say. We just have to break down and hand the cake to the juniors when it comes to slinging a formal. It was almost as good as the one we gave last year at the Country Club—Let's go play a coupla sets of tennis. Now that I'm a man of the world I have to think where I'm going to get the kale to rah rah around like the rest of the college kids.—Now, when I was in high school—

Prince, Ireton

The Class of Thirty-one

The Class of Thirty-two

Well, you see, Helen, there isn't much to tell about your junior year; it is just like any other, but you don't talk so much about it.—Oh, but Joe, tell me anyway—Well, first we had an election. Gave Merle McKaig a break by electing him president, you oughta hear him twang the vocal chords. John Lukens was vice-president, he's a humdinger. Johnny Crowe was secretary, and I s'pose you'd go crazy about his blonde hair. For treasurer we elected Jun Yamamoto, you oughta hear him play his sax! It's a honey. Do you think I could ever learn to play mine?—Sure, then you could serenade me—Aw, quit the talk, I would play in a band, not for any dumb dames—Next came our dues campaign. Some big louse left an $18.00 debt on our trail, and we had to pay for it. We had a snooty campaign—Say, that reminds me, you owe me fifty cents—For the luvva mike, I paid that. Say, Helen, you should have been here for the Junior Vodville, it was a snazz. Dean Kloefer and Pret Hale nearly wrecked the audience with their cracks, they made a good one at Zed Lee. Talk about fluffy ducks! No, I won't tell you. Oh, yeah, we sent Bill Ash and Lucille Nelson to the Student Council—What's that?—Gee, Helen, you're awfully dumb. At the Council they hash over some financial problems and fix the hand book and act smart—Did you juniors go out for sports?—You betcha, you should have seen the fellas out for track—Oh, I hate to see them running, their faces look so awful—You gals can't appreciate art. We went out for debate, too. Clyde Koontz, John Lu'ens and Ddwain Vincent argued for us. 'Course we had to get those awkward seniors ready to be graduated—Joe, you forgot the Prom—Naw, I didn't. Oh, you were sweet that night. Do you suppose, I mean, would you, er, that is will you write to me this summer?—I'd love to, Joe—A-w-w-w—gee!

Well, the old school bell pealed forth, and we all shouts, "Oi, Oi, to the synagogue!" and we all takes the school by storm; we're sophomores—Yes, maybe that was the trouble—Well, as I was saying before I was so very rudely interrupted, we assumed the old "My dear, it rally is ripping" air and sallies forth to give the frosh a break—Yes, whatta break! Say, I hear the price of butter and eggs—Well, when I was a sophomore we starts things off with a smart election, no stuffing of ballot boxes like the other classes—Don't kid me—Will you go home? Will you shuddup or are you going to interrupt me alla time? We had a nifty bunch of officers—You mean ossifers—One more crack like that and I'll forget you're a girl and hit you so hard you'll swallow your Aunt Hatty's false teeth—You big, bad pansy—We elected Carl Smith president. Edna Simpson was vice-president, gosh, she's a cute kid—Well, am I s'posed to rush over to the nearest speakeasy and have a good cry?—Lucille Beetham was secretary and Melva Fitzwater treasurer—Did you have any minutes or money?—Naw, we didn't need any meetings, we were too well organized—Oh, by the way, I hear the geese are flying low in Nova Scotia today—Well, don't open your mouth or they'll fly in—Who went to the Student Council?—Adelaide Scotland and Milton Thurber. Milton is quite an actor; he does the cutest impersonation of Little Eva crossing the ice—Do tell!—We had a good Soph Frolic in the spring, and the cutest girl, I was dancing with her, and she said—Yes, the dance was good—Say, who taught you to be so smart?—Six easy lessons and I know a man who can get your money back for you—Say, Carl Smith played on the basketball squad, and quite a few fellas went out for football. Say, remember when Jim and Bill and—Hey, didja know the price of sand in Arabia had gone up a cent?

Gee, Mom, it's grand to be in high school, 'n'everything—I know, Dave, but I hate to see you grow up so fast—Can the sob stuff, I'm through with this "dearie" business. Do you suppose next year I can take the car to school, and go to the library in the evenings? Gee whizz, everyone goes but me—Well, maybe. What did you do this year? You never did tell me—Most of the kids were scared out of their seven years' growth, but not me. Some of the upper-classmen ogled at us until we felt like tree-sitters or something. We elected Bob Gavin president, Lona Jean Stewart vice-president, Bob Johnson secretary and Janet Brownell treasurer. We didn't have any money, though—What did you do with the two dollars I gave you for your dues?—Oh, well, migosh, I can't remember. Ardis Simpson and Elizabeth Winstead represented us at the Student Council. They discuss big problems with Zed Lee—Who is Zed Lee?—

Why, Mom, he's Mr. Foy. That's what we call him. Next thing we planned a dance. Everyone had to have a girl to eat with. I had Jean for a partner—And who is Jean?—Aw, you wouldn't understand, we had a snazzy time. That's a word I learned from Charles Joslyn. He's on the debate team, so's June Martineau, Bill Weisshaupt, Frances Harmon, Walter Nye and Earnest Oberbillig. Andy Shelton, Bill Weisshaupt, Don Keyser, Bill Anderson and Jim Johnson played foot ball. I went out for a week, but some big bloke stepped on my face and made me mad. Bill Anderson, Bill Nye, Joe Garmendia, John Azmendia and Glenn Cressy made the Frosh-Soph basketball squad—What kind of social affairs did you have, son?—Oh, the gals had a tea or something and dragged their moms. They probably introduced them to their teachers to get a good grade. When I'm a junior I'm going to take Jean to the Prom, can I, huh?

The Squad

Football

With a nucleus of eight letter men back from last year's strong eleven around which to build his team, Coach Loren H. Basler set forth in the early fall to fashion Boise High School's hopes for a state championship. However, after the season's schedule had been completed, four elevens, Parma, Fruitland, Nampa and Boise, put in their claims on the championship.

Parma and Fruitland based their claims on the fact that they had defeated the best teams in Southwestern Idaho. Fruitland had not been defeated and so claimed the championship, but as it had not played either Nampa or Boise, both teams had right to do battle with Fruitland. After much arguing back and forth, it was finally decided that Boise and Fruitland would play, and Nampa and Parma would engage in contest. The winners of these two games would then play for the district title. Boise defeated Fruitland 13 to 0, and Nampa beat Parma 7 to 0, which meant that the two old rivals would fight it out for supremacy. Boise and Nampa played, but for all the good it did they might as well have flipped a coin in the first place. The game was a tie, 6 to 6. As the season was too far along to play another game, once again the flip of a coin gave Nampa the right to represent the Southwestern Idaho District in a play-off with Twin Falls. Nampa won the championship of the State of Idaho by defeating Twin by a score of 19 to 7.

Boise on the Defensive

The Braves, however, were not to be outdone, so they scheduled a game with the Lewiston High School Bengals, who represented the best in the northern part of the state. Lewiston picked Boise for its opponent, as it considered the Braves to be the strongest team in the state. Boise defeated Lewiston 25 to 13 and thereby hung up a mythical state championship, proving that Boise had put out another great football squad.

At the close of the season the Braves selected Jess Swan, their captain, as the most valuable player on the squad. Jess has his name engraved on the Kiwanis plaque along with the names of former football stars.

Winners of the "B" were Howard Orr, Carl Smith, Bruce Gralow, Robert Krummes, George Newland, Ed Elliott, Ted Biladeau, Jess Swan, John Steward, Carl Wendt, Ray McManimie, Henry Uranga, Harold Tjossem, Forrest Whisler, Kenneth Robertson, Bobby Hoobler, Ty Hurtt, Harold Kaeser, Roy Hanford and Kenneth Heilig. Philip Falk, also, received a manager's "B" for his services throughout the season.

Letter men who will be back next year are Elliott, Newland, Robertson, Smith, Hoobler, and Kaeser. These will be the players around whom Basler will build his team. However, an abundance of reserve material will be out, including the many players who gained experience on the Frosh-Soph squad. Boise High School can look forward to a strong team next year.

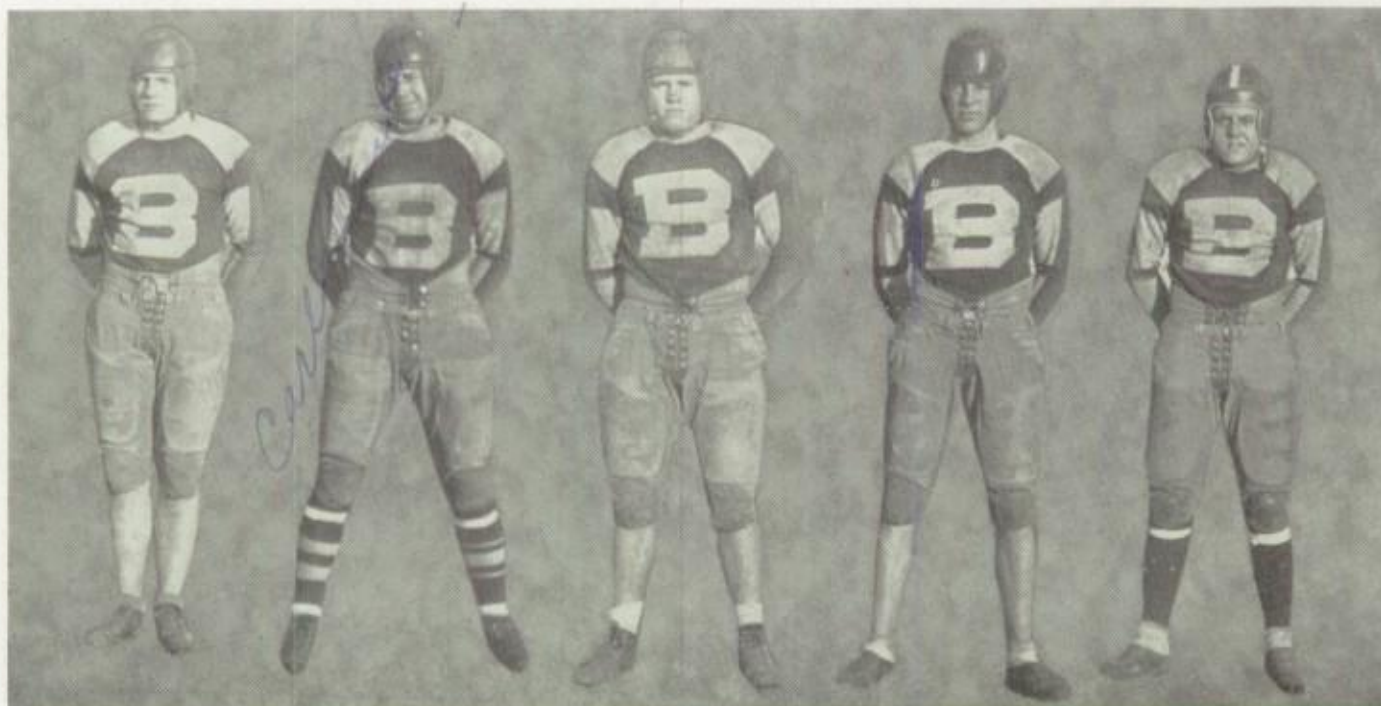

Manager Falk

Boise Pass Under Way

In the opening game of the season, played at Public School Field September 19, the Braves received a hard licking at the hands of the Parma gridsters by a score of 7 to 0. It was the first contest that the Braves had lost in four years. Staging a powerful comeback the next day, the Braves showed everyone that they had a team after all by squelching the Vale eleven 57 to 0. A new line-up started and soon it was seen that this was the team that should have played against Parma the day before. Touchdowns in the first and third quarters brought the Braves to an easy 12-to-0 victory over the Ontario High School eleven.

Pocatello Bannocks next came under the far-reaching grip of Boise's Redskins by a 39-to-0 score. Bobby Hoobler and John Steward, Boise halfbacks, were the outstanding players of the day, making long runs, intercepting passes, and gaining yardage whenever the ball was in their possession.

When Wildcat and Indian get into a fight the outcome is usually unpleasant and such was the fix that the Boise Indians were in when they played Filer. The Wildcats gave the Braves their second trouncing of the year by an 18-to-12 tally. However, ineligibility of players on the Filer squad caused the Idaho State Athletic Commission to suspend the Wildcats from athletic competition and gave the game to the Braves by forfeit. The game was played October 18, on Boise's gridiron.

Journeying to Twin Falls on October 25, the Braves handed the

Elliott, Wendt, Swan, Steward, Biladeau

Magic City eleven a sound 20-to-14 thrashing; 85 loyal supporters of the Braves went to Twin and out-yelled the Student Body there.

Hallowe'en, ghosts, tin cans, or what have you, must have affected the Braves, for Boise traveled all the way to Idaho Falls to play the Tigers to a 6-to-6 tie. Both teams played a hard, fast game, but neither was able to score more than once.

A week's rest and then the game of games—Nampa. When the smoke had cleared from the Armistice Day battle, the Braves were the standing heroes. The score, 14 to 6, Boise. One of the features of the contest was a beautiful pass which Ed Elliott, lanky end man for the Braves, lined into the arms of Robert Krummes, Boise star end, who ran for a touchdown. The play netted Boise 80 yards.

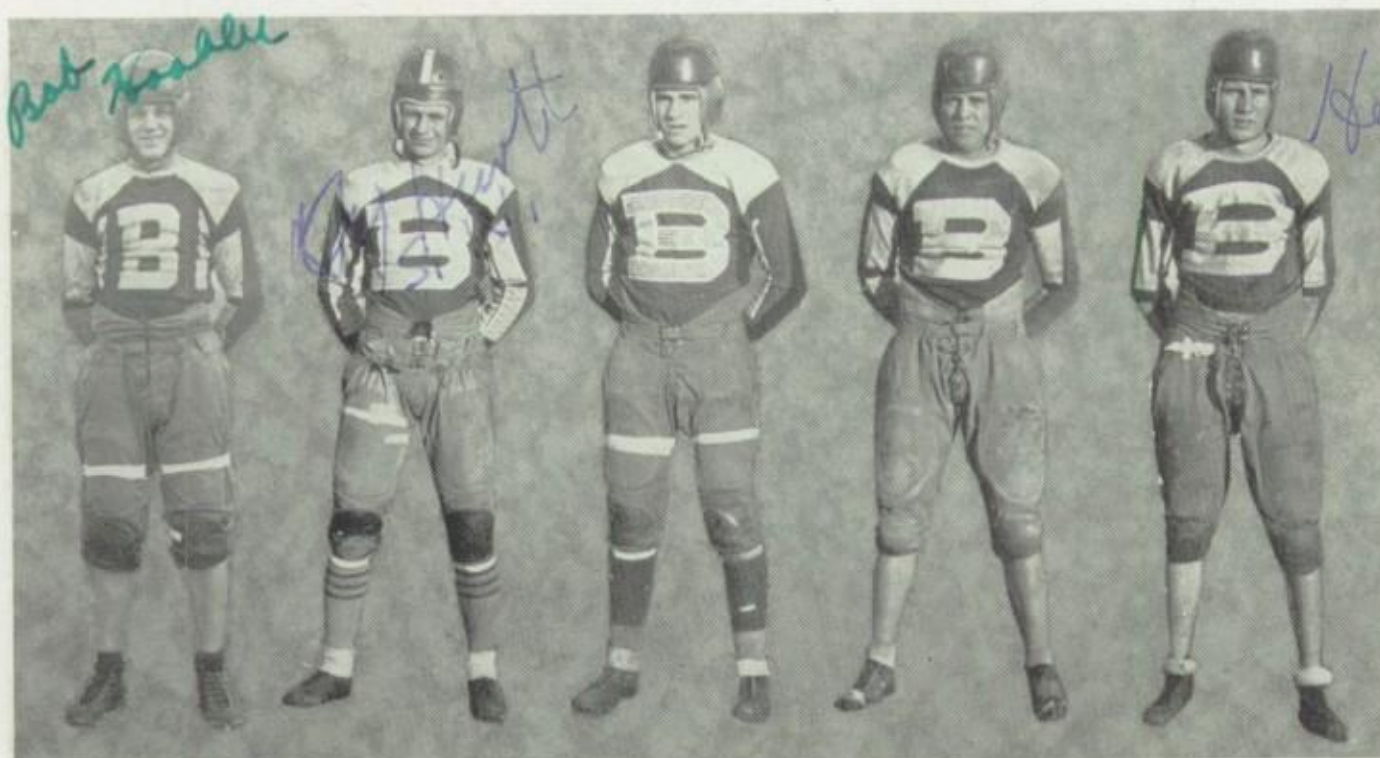

McManimie, Robertson, Tjossem, Whisler, Uranga

Boise Stops Fruitland

Blizzards, snow and cold weather could not stop the Braves on their strong march for the championship play-off. Fruitland was the objective this time and fell before Boise's consistent teamwork 13 to 0. A deadlock was the final result of the second game that Boise played with Nampa, namely a 6-to-6 tie.

Lewiston High Bengals came from the northern part of the State to do battle with the Braves in the last football game of the season and met an overpowering defeat 25 to 13. The contest showed that the Southern Idaho teams were playing a better type of ball than the northern squads, as Lewiston had defeated all of the other elevens in the northern part of the State by large scores.

Basketball

The football season at an end, Boise High School turned its thoughts towards the artists of the maple courts. Prospects at the first of the season were extremely poor as only three lettermen returned from last year's highly touted five. However, as the season progressed, a well-balanced team came into existence.

Boise won the Southwestern Idaho championship. The Braves traveled to Moscow to compete with the other district champions, but Idaho Falls put Boise out of the tournament, defeating it 25 to 23. The Braves entered a consolation tournament, playing teams from Arco and Twin Falls. Boise defeated Arco 35 to 11, but Twin Falls took the measure of the Braves 35 to 25 in the final go for the consolation championship. Idaho Falls won the state championship by defeating Coeur d'Alene 38 to 31. This made the seventh consecutive year that the Braves have represented the Southwestern Idaho district in the state tournaments.

Winners of the coveted basketball "B" are: Ed Elliot, Jess Swan, Kenneth Robertson, Ward Rolfe, Emmett Brady, Tom Gill, Norman Tague, Dick McDonald and Carl Smith. Bill Ash managed the team and received a manager's "B."

The Braves defeated the Eagles, from Baker, Oregon, by a 24 to 14 score. Boise was then beaten by Ontario 31 to 27. A week later they redeemed themselves by cleaning Ontario 30 to 8. The Braves then squelched the Caldwell Cougars 26 to 16, and beat Weiser High School 22 to 19. They won from the Intermountain Institute 39 to 11.

Mountain Home received the short end of a 43-to-21 tally. Nampa next came under the Braves' mighty arms, meeting defeat 29 to 21. The Mountain Home Tigers were handed a 42-to-21 trimming.

Weiser High School and the Institute, playing return games, went down to defeat, Boise beating Weiser High School 26 to 21 and the Institute 43 to 10. As the season's schedule was near an end the Braves took three out of four hard games, playing the Emmett Melon-pickers twice, Nampa once on its floor, and Caldwell on its floor. Boise came through, winning from Emmett 23 to 18 the first game, and 34 to 14 the second game. The Braves went to Nampa to receive a hard licking at the hands of the Bulldogs 23 to 21. In the last game of the season Boise easily defeated Caldwell 28 to 9 on the Caldwell floor.

Boise beat Payette 30 to 12 in the district tournament, but met defeat at the hands of Nampa 23 to 21. The Braves later cleaned Nampa 20 to 10. Boise played Emmett twice, beating it 23 to 11 the first time, and in the championship go 25 to 11. In the play-off series between Mountain Home and Boise, the Braves lost the first game 18 to 12, but won the last two 37 to 13, and 31 to 16.

Then to the state tournament and thus ended the basketball season for the year 1931.

Smith, Elliott, Rolfe, Robertson, Ash, Manager

Track

Artists of the cinder path turned out for practice on April 3. Prospects for a state championship looked good, as the following eleven lettermen were back: Kenneth Robertson, Dean Kloepfer, Jess Swan, Albert Frazier, Robert Krummes, Harold Peebler, Ted Biladeau, Henry Uranga, Ray McManimie, Max Heyde and Ed Elliott. With these men Coach Basler drilled to make a squad which should accomplish much for the year 1931.

Tryouts for track positions were held. Then came the interclass meet in which the seniors reigned supreme, scoring a total of 72 points. The juniors scored 61 tallies, sophomores 19, and the freshmen a lone point. The seniors took first place in the 220-yard dash, low and high hurdles, 100-yard dash, broad jump, shotput, discus and relay.

Something new in high school circles came next on the track squad's schedule—a night track meet—which was held April 15 at the College of Idaho bowl at Caldwell. The Braves walked away with this meet, taking nearly all the honors. Boise scored $37\frac{1}{2}$ points in the meet. Emmett High School was second with 22 points; Mountain Home and Weiser tied for third place with 10 points each; Fruitland scored 9 tallies, and Caldwell $3\frac{3}{4}$. Nampa, Eagle and Payette failed to place in the meet. The illuminated meet was a success, but was rather a hard strain on the eyes of the vaulters and high jumpers.

The Squad

Taking part in a dual track meet at Twin Falls, Boise walloped the Magic City track squad by a score of 98½ to 44½. Boise placed first in the 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash, 440-yard dash, 880-yard dash, mile run, high hurdles, low hurdles, high jump, pole vault, broad jump and the relay.

As The Courier goes to press the Braves have on their schedule four meets: the annual quadrangular meet at Public School Field, the district meet at Caldwell, the inter-district meet at Burley and the state meet, which is to be at Boise.

To be eligible for the state meet a player must place either first, second or third in his own district meet, and in the inter-district meet must place either first or second. The Braves confidently expect many of the Boise men will be able to compete in the state meet.

Men who represented Boise in the district meet at Caldwell are: Frazier, Swan, 100-yard dash; Peebler, Sharp, Perry, mile run; Frazier, Matthews, 220-yard dash; Swan, Robertson, 120-yard high hurdles; Heyde, Krummes, Watson, 440-yard run; Swan, Biladeau, 220-yard low hurdles; Kendall, Menard, Kloepfer, 880-yard run; Babbitt, Heilig, pole vault; Elliott, Roberston, Uranga, high jump; McManimie, Bennett, Smith, discus; McManimie, Uranga, Newland, shot; Kloepfer, Robertson, Smith, javelin; Swan, Uranga, Elliott, broad jump; Swan, Heyde, Krummes, Frazier, relay.

The Braves were considered weak in the weights and pole vault this year. In other respects they possessed a team strongly developed.

Robertson and Swan take High Hurdles

Baseball

The outlook for the Boise High baseball team is good, as five regular players, Francis Stephens, Dick McDonald, George Newland, Cody Brassey and Harold Beadner, returned from last year's nine. In the first game of the season the Braves trampled a team from Eagle by a score of 11 to 6.

A. J. Boosinger is coach. He has supervised baseball for the past several years in Boise High School. Francis Stephens is playing his last year for the Braves, having made three previous letters. Bobby Hoobler and Francis are carrying the brunt of the pitching work, with George Newland catching, Dick McDonald playing first base, Harold Beadner second base and Cody Brassey shortstop or third base. Coach Boosinger has a lot of reserve men who will push the others hard for the remaining positions. Harold Kaeser, Richard Wallace, Walein Hallstrom, Dean Kloefer, Bill Anderson, Carl Haynes, Bill Howard, Paul Buchanan and Anton Popp are showing up well and should win letters. Roy Brewer is manager.

The Braves are scheduled for two contests with Eagle, two with Emmett, two with Wilder and two with Franklin. Besides a possible number of contests with other schools, the Braves have plans for playing several city league teams.

As the season progresses the Braves are improving, establishing the fact that baseball is not dead as far as Boise High School is concerned.

* The Squad

Tennis

Tennis, which continues to increase in popularity in Boise High School, was started this year with a tournament. Thirty-two players were out who had hopes of making the team. Coach C. P. Pollard had the following boys back from last year: Francis Stephens, Jack Cummock, Dick McDonald, Bill Martin and Philip Falk. Practice was hampered at the first of the season because of bad weather, the boys playing in the high school gymnasium until late in the spring.

The first match of the season was played against the Caldwell Cougars whom the Braves squelched in every match of the day with the exception of the freshman singles. Nordling, Boise, defeated Holt, Caldwell, 6-4, 7-5; Cummock, Boise number two man, beat Chase of Caldwell, 6-2, 6-4; Gilbert took the measure of Jester, Caldwell, 7-5, 6-1; Scott, Boise, easily beat Sloan of Caldwell by a 6-0, 6-0 tally. In the double events, Stephens and McDonald beat Holt and Chase 3-6, 7-5, 7-5; Powers and Falk defeated Attridge and Jester 6-4, 4-6, 6-1.

Due to the late start only one match with Caldwell has been played as The Courier goes to press. The team has another match with Caldwell, two matches with Nampa, and two with Parma.

New to tennis circles this year was the establishment of freshman tennis. The frosh had two contests with Caldwell, one with Eagle and one with Parma.

The Squad

Intramural Sports

The year 1931 found intramural sports taking their place in the limelight of Boise High School activities, their purpose being to afford a means for more students to demonstrate their athletic ability.

The tennis tournament was won by Francis Stephens, more than thirty boys competing for the honor of being school "champ."

Following tennis came the Do-Nut League, a five named the "Whickers" winning the championship. Members of the winning team are: Dick McDonald, Preston Hale, Emil Thomas, Owen Sproat and Tom Gill. McDonald was captain.

R. F. Chindgren's nine won the intramural baseball championship.

Intramural track was held with the seniors taking all honors. The seniors scored 72 points. Second place went to the juniors, who scored 61 points. The sophomores were third with 19 points and the green young men of the school scored only one point. Jess Swan, senior, was high point scorer of the interclass meet with $19\frac{1}{4}$ points to his credit. Max Heyde, junior, was second to Swan, scoring 15 points.

The horseshoe tournament was started too late in the year to get any results in The Courier, but Roy Hanford, who was runner-up last year, is in the lead and is expected to take the honors. Sixteen players are vieing for honors in the singles. The doubles were not started when The Courier went to press.

Intramural Champions: Tennis, Basketball, Baseball

Frosh-Soph Athletics

Frosh-Soph teams are organized in Boise High School to teach the fundamentals of the game. Sportsmanship, teamwork, clean play, all go in ironing out good points for the future teams. Larry Wood coaches football and A. J. Boosinger basketball.

The Baby Braves defeated St. Joseph's football team 13 to 6 in the opening game of the season. Nampa, Emmett and Melba beat the Braves, but not by large scores. In the last game of the season the Boise team played a tie game with Meridian High School's first team. Players earning small "B's" are: William Anderson, James Laubaugh, Durward Watson, James Gralow, Bill Howard, James Black, John Fairchild, James Lane, Donald Kaeser, Richard Martin, Tom Gill, James Muffley and James Johnson.

Coach Boosinger started the basketball season with apparently little material. The Baby Braves played a total of twelve games, taking on teams from Eagle, Caldwell, Ontario, Mountain Home, Nampa and Emmett, and St. Joseph's School. The Papooses also played several games against pick-up teams around the High School. The worst defeat was handed them by the Nampa Frosh-Soph team, 24 to 17, but later in the season the Baby Braves humiliated the Bulldog Pups 23 to 19 on the Nampa floor. Men representing the Braves are: William Anderson, Harold Beadner, Scott Brewer, Glenn Cressy, Melvin Daly, Earl McReynolds, William Nye and Howard Tennyson.

Frosh-Soph Football Squad

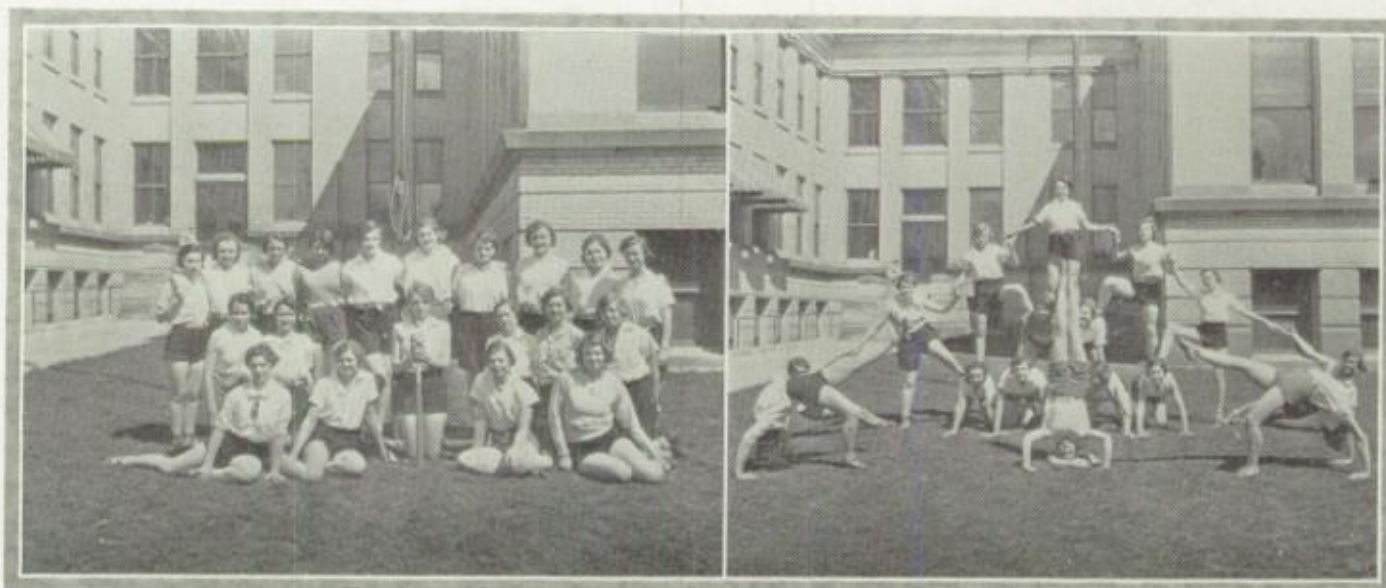

Girls' Athletics

Girls' Athletics in Boise High School are provided for the majority of girls, not the minority. They are carried on under the direction of Miss Josephine Keane.

Using the double elimination system, the seniors came out victorious in the basketball tournament. The team was composed of Eilleen Laurenson, Dorothy Kaeser, Mary Taylor, Olivia Phelan, Frances Nourse, Virginia Hendershot, Cordelia Gabriel, and Beth Whitehead. Olivia Phelan was the basketball manager.

Miscellaneous sports are in session the entire school year. Fall and winter bring skating, coasting, and skiing, while in the spring there is horseback riding, hiking, and rollerskating. The points given for these activities are awarded on a basis of the number of hours or miles devoted to a sport over a specified number of days. The managers are Vida Wade and Eilleen Laurenson.

Tumbling was under the supervision of Marguerite Seibel and was held during the first semester of school. In this the girls are taught the more simple fundamentals of tumbling and acrobatic stunts. Archery was under the direction of Lois Saffle. A few girls practiced all year at the "Y," where they became proficient in managing the bow and arrow. A tennis tournament will be held at the Julia Davis Park courts, carried on by the double elimination system. Fae Wade is responsible for this sport. Volleyball was held after the basketball season and Bonnie Rayborn was in charge.

Baseball

Tumbling

Baseball is managed by Mildred Thode. This is the main outdoor sport of the year. Teams are chosen from the girls who turn out and a number of games are scheduled.

Every girl who wishes to participate in any of the various sports is required to become a member of the Girls' Athletic Association which presents the various awards to those who have earned them. The awards which are given each year include numerals, letters, sweaters and chevrons. A plan is now under way so that these awards will be recognized by other high schools and also the colleges.

Those who received numerals this year are: Betty Lou Davis, Audla Fickle, Charlotte Haffke, Mary Louise Smith, and Margaret Seibel. Pearl Smith and Vida Wade received their letters. Edna Sargent was awarded a sweater with a big "B." Chevrons were given to Dorothy Kaeser, Eilleen Laurenson, Lucille Nelson, Frances Nourse, Olivia Phelan, and Mary Taylor.

These awards are given according to an established point system. A girl gets a certain number of points for each sport and these are totaled at the end of the year. Two hundred and fifty points are required for a numeral, six hundred for a letter, a thousand for a sweater, and fifteen hundred for a chevron.

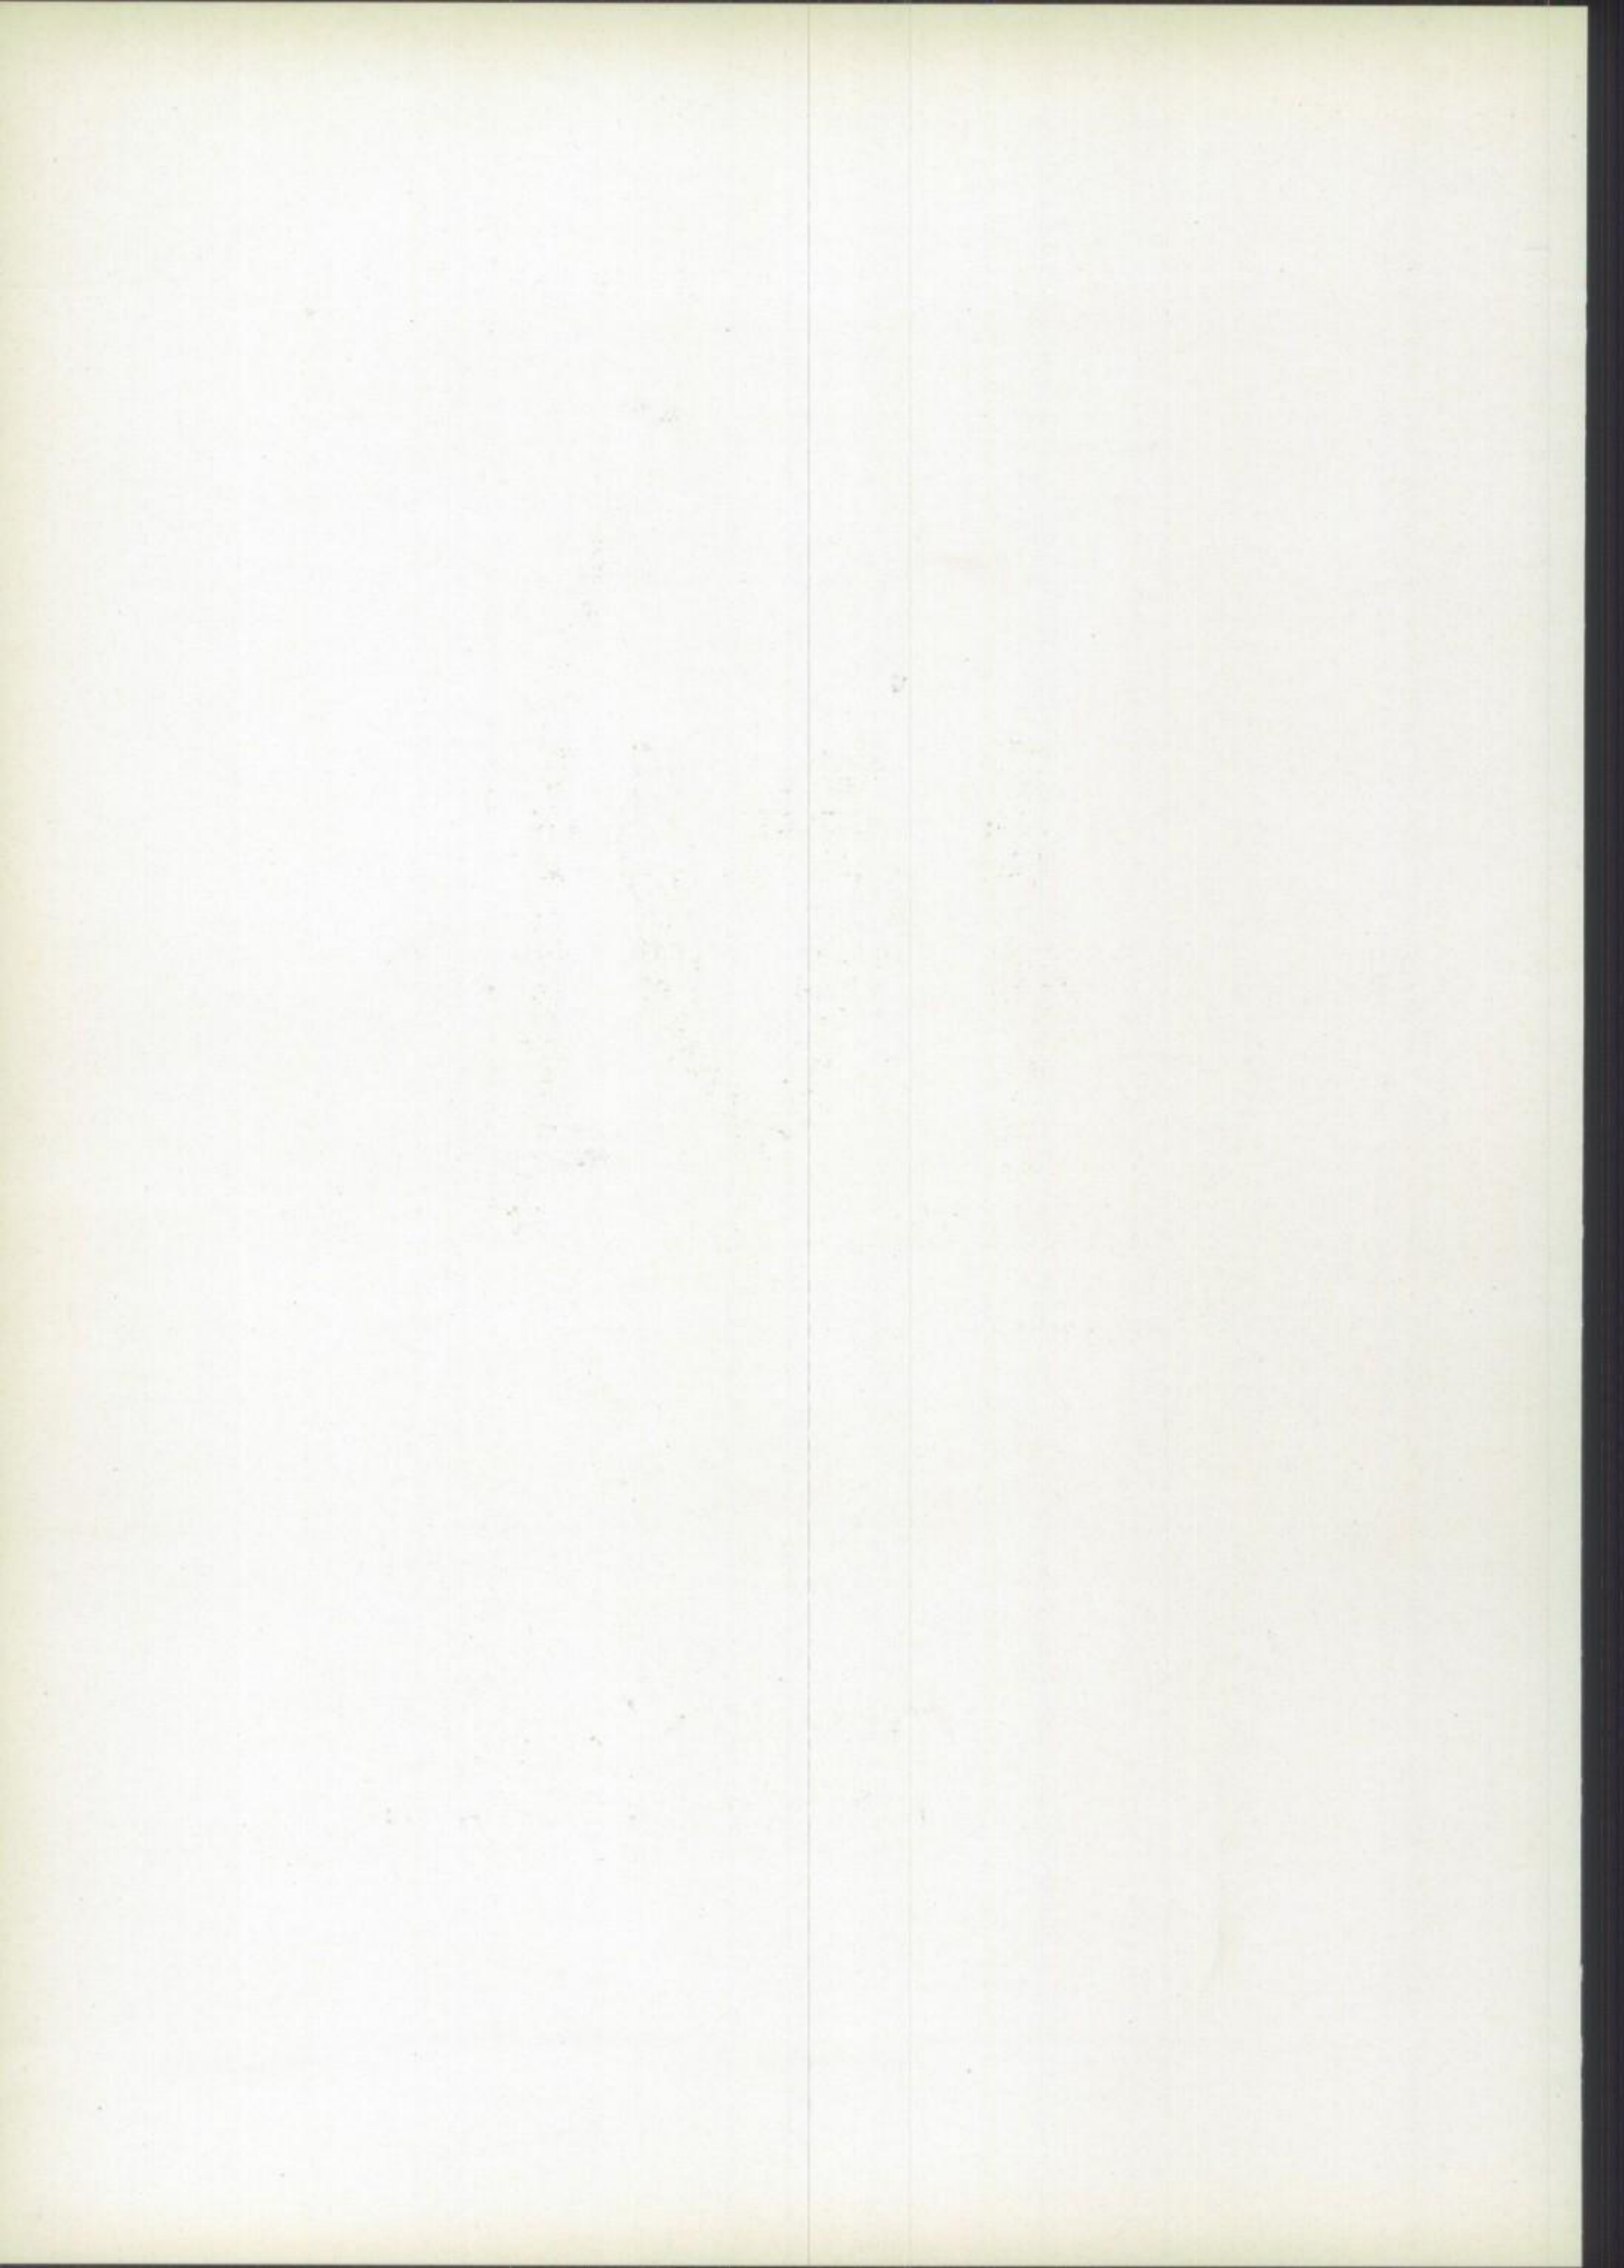

Girls' athletics are being brought more and more to the front in high school life. Miss Keane with several other physical education teachers in the state is working on a plan whereby girls may continue their athletic activities from high school into college. This plan is expected to be in effect next year.

High Lights

The Boise High Lights, newspaper of the Associated Student Body, is successfully completing its fifth year. The staff is selected from the advanced journalism classes, and the printing is done in the school print shop.

Lee Dailey was editor the first semester and Helen Gailey was business manager. The rest of the staff was: Nina Varian, Ross Pope, Eleanor Doolittle, Lee Parkinson, Albert Carlton, Margaret Hughes, Fred Lewis and Bill Carlton. Second semester the paper is edited by William Roberts, with Margaret Hughes as business manager. Rosamond Tenney, Jane Peterson, Helen Gailey, Emmett Brady, Eleanor Doolittle, Eilleen Laurensen, Nina Varian, Bill Carlton, Bill Young, Albert Carlton, John Steward, Albert Moncarr and Fred Lewis complete the staff. Appreciation is due Dwight Mitchell, W. O. Lemon and H. L. Straight for their direction in publishing The High Lights.

Helen Mayer

Dramatics

Under the experienced direction of Miss Helen Mayer, expression teacher, dramatics has attained the station of the most popular and best attended activity of the school. The annual presentation of one-act plays and "The Black Flamingo" were cast from the Dramatic Club. The money received from these two productions and other one-act plays and assemblies given by the expression classes will be used for new stage properties. The entire senior class is eligible for the senior class play, "Hay Fever," the proceeds of which are to be used to purchase the senior class gift to the school.

"In the Spring a Young Man's Fancy," a comedy in one act by Will Smith Ranson, was presented as the first play on a program of varied attractions. Mrs. Jack Hilliard, a chaperone, was played by Mary Ellen Burns; Jean, Jane Peterson; Jacqueline, Bea Pfeffer; Jo, Clarita Dailey; Julie, Ethelyn Alberts; Janet, Marjorie Hays; Marie, a maid, Geneva Patterson; Dicky Trent, Bernard Holden. The scene is laid in a suite in a fashionable Paris hotel, where Dicky, arriving in Paris, meets the girls and in a short time finds himself engaged to all six of them. A telegram from a "previous engagement" settles the difficulties.

"Juliet and Romeo"

"The Beau of Bath"

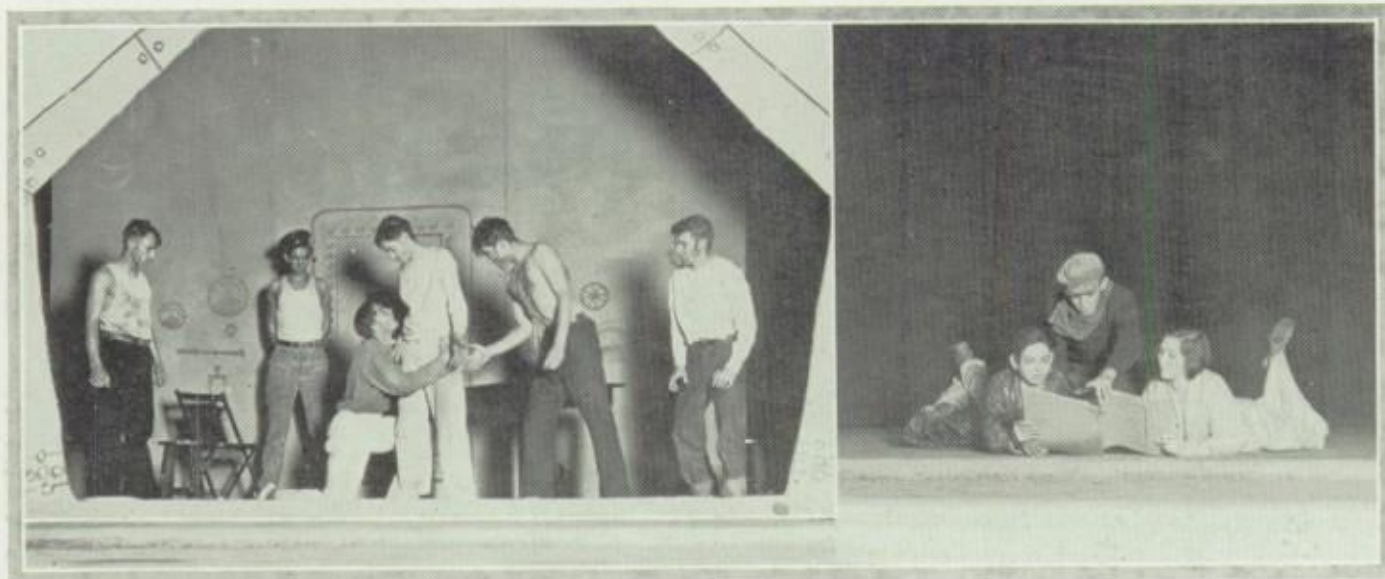

"The Clock Shop"

A tragedy, "Submerged," by Stuart Colman and Le Vergne Shaw, was one of the finest and most difficult plays ever presented in Boise High School. The cast was: Dunn, the lover, Milton Thurber; Shaw, the dreamer, Merle McKaig; Brice, the coward, Dean Kloefer; MacAndrews, the commander, Harold Tjossem; Nabb, the cockney, Lee Dailey; Jorgeson, the bully, John Steward. The extremely difficult roles of the coward and the bully were excellently taken, as were all the parts. The scene was laid in the compartment of a wrecked and submerged submarine, where men became crazed and hideous in their frantic efforts to escape.

A delightful musical fantasy, "The Clock Shop," by John Golden, completed the presentation of one-act plays. The cast was: Hans, a Dutch clock, Horace Quarles; Gretchen, a Dutch clock, Ruth Johnson; Alarm Clock, Wallace Pefley; Cuckoo Clock, Bill Zurcher; Grandfather Clock, Clinton Atkinson; the clock-maker and Father Time, a dual role, Bernard Hardiman. The colorful settings and costumes added much to the play's success.

"The Black Flamingo," by Sam Janney, was the annual three-act play presented by the Dramatic Club. With its intricate stage settings and business the play was indeed a triumph in amateur acting and fine direction. The time was during the reign of terror in France and the story centered around the theft of the diamond necklace of Queen Marie Antoinette. Through the clever workings of Count Cagliastro the necklace was found, his honor redeemed, and family complications straightened out. The role of the Count was ably portrayed by Clinton Atkinson. Nina Varian, as Diane, a lady of the court, and Preston Hale as Trigaud, a wandering minstrel, furnished the love interest in the play. Bill Zercher as Popo, the court fool, and Bea Pfeffer as Clotilde, a servant girl, supplied the comedy element. Character parts were ably portrayed by Dean Kloefer as Boudier, the innkeeper; Ruth Estel as Madame Boudier, his wife, and Harold Tjoseem as Bourian, the cut-throat. David Shaw was Francois, brother of Diane; Maureen Harris, Charlotte, her sister; Milton Thurber, M. de Lussac, her father. John Steward as Bossange, crazed jeweler and uncle of Trigaud, completed the cast.

"Submerged"

"Nevertheless"

The senior class play, "Hay Fever," by Noel Coward, is a sophisticated English comedy in three acts to be presented June 2. The story centers about the life of the Blisses, an eccentric family, each member of it a temperamental artist. Rosamond Tenny is cast in the leading role of Judith Bliss, a retired actress. Wallace Pefley is her husband, David, a writer; Maxine Austin is Sorel, her daughter, a musician, and Bernard Holden plays Simon, the son, who is an artist. The rest of the cast is: Sandy Tyrell, an admirer of Judith's, Kenneth Heilig; Myra Arundel, a vampire, Jane Peterson; Jackie Corodan, a flapper, Arlee Hall; Richard Greatham, the diplomat, Webb Smith; Clara, the maid and past wardrobe mistress of Judith, Bethel Eddy.

The department sponsored and cast twelve skits and plays during the school year. The revival of a one-act play, "All on a Summer's Day," included a cast of Bea Talbot, Lois Thatcher, Maureen Harris and Bethel Eddy. This clever skit was presented at the State Horticultural banquet for wives of legislators.

The Christmas season saw the production of three cleverly-written one-act plays. "The Beau of the Bath," a Christmas fantasy by Mackay, presented an excellent cast. The role of Beau Nash was played by Harold Tjossem, and Jepson, his valet, by Clinton Atkinson. The part of Rosamond, the lady of the picture, was taken by Lura Mae Whipple. The scene was laid in Bath, England, the time dating back to 1750.

"The Black Flamingo"

"Nevertheless," a one-act play by Stuart Walker, was also presented. The role of Billy was portrayed by John Nelson, his little sister Sue by Sarah Walker, and the burglar by Jack Brett.

A comedy in two scenes, "Juliet and Romeo," closed the series of dramatic skits on the Christmas program. It was a delightful play within a play. The parts were well handled by Rosamond Tenney in the role of Juliet, John Plunkett as Romeo, Clinton Atkinson as the old man, Cordelia Gabriel as the maid, and Raymond Randall as Friar Lawrence of Shakespearian fame. Eileen Peck announced the vehicle.

The spring season will see the production of two very clever plays, "The Knave of Hearts" and "Great Moments." The first, a fairy tale comedy, will include in its cast: Bea Talbot, the princess; Webb Smith, the king; William Ketchen, the minister; Frances Smith and Jeanne Shinn, cooks; Betty Groves, attendant; Clinton Atkinson, counselor; John Lukens, the knave of hearts; Bess Cuddy and Gertrude Williams, the queen's attendants.

The cast of "Great Moments," a juvenile romance, is: Geneva Patterson, William Young, Lorraine Beymer, and Bernard Holden. It is a delightful comedy, promising good entertainment.

"Pardon Me, My Error," a domestic farce, was presented at an all-school assembly. The husband was played by Bernard Holden, the wife by Clarine Riordan, and Lenox, the brother, was taken by Milton Thurber. Dean Kloefer as the iceman, John Plunkett as the janitor, and John Steward as the trashman, all added much humor to the skit.

A melodramatic skit, "Underworld," was produced for an assembly in March. Bea Pfeffer and Roy Wood were cast in it. "Bull, Skirt and Gob," featuring Harold Tjossem, La Flora Freeman and John Steward, was presented in the Junior Vodvil. "Dregs," a melodrama was given in the Variety Show, with Webb Smith cast as Jim, Josephine Wicks as Nance, and Bill Ketchen as the detective.

May Fete

A gay and colorful display of costumes, settings and folk dances of the countries of the world made the May Fete for this year one of the most entertaining ever presented. Each country was represented by the dances, costumes and settings most characteristic of it. Most of the dances, as well as being characteristic of the country represented, were of historical origin.

The Goddess of Liberty, as the representative of America, was attended by the Honor Girls and the R.O.T.C. The climax of the Fete was the crowning of Maxine Austin as May Queen by Governor C. Ben Ross.

Countries were represented by their dances. The dances for each country were: The British Isles, May Pole, Irish Jig, Highland Fling; French, Farandale; German, Come-let-us-be-joyful; Norwegian, Mountain March; Swedish, Gustav Skol; Danish, Little-man-in-a-fix; Spanish, La Jota; Italian, Tarantella;

Honor Girls

Russian, Kamarinskain; Hungary, Csardas, and the United States, cowboy and Indian. The cowboy dance is of unusual interest because of its historical value.

Nearly four hundred girls took part in the May Fete this year. The Indian dance was composed of one hundred 8-A girls from the city grade schools.

Leads in the May Fete were representative of the countries. They were: England, Edna Sargeant; Denmark, Etha Pefley; France, Betty Butler; Hungary, Mildred Thode; Norway, Eileen Peck; Germany, Leone Fergus; Sweden, Margaret Osbourne; Spain, Marie Neifert; Russia, Laurina Williams, and Italy, Margaret Seibel.

The forty-three Honor Girls, chosen for their superiority in character, leadership, scholarship, manners, loyalty, sincerity and trustworthiness, are: Emma Labrum, Janis Black, Arline Booth, Rosamond Tenney, Nina Varian, Virginia Miller, Virginia Fox, Fern Leighton, Henrietta Young, Anne Ketchen, Ruth Reeves, Esther Flenner, Maxine Austin, Ruth Farley, Clarita Dailey, Harriet Hitchcock, Eilleen Laurensen, Lucille Nelson, Martha Bailey, Ardis Simpson, Le Ilah Foster, Mary Taylor, Julie Davis, Jeanette Wines, Jo Betty Wicks, Iretta Nokleby, Edna Simpson, Jane Peterson, Jean Taylor, Fae Wade, Ruth Puckett, Helen Church, Hallie Hanson, Bea Talbot, Millicent Hoover, Melva Fitzwater, Lucille Beetham, Margaret Simpson, Beth Whitehead, Rosa Asumendi, Marjorie Blaine, and Dora Baird. These were the forty-three girls receiving the greatest number of votes as Honor Girls. The one with the highest number was made May Queen. The Maid of Honor was the girl who received the second highest number of votes.

Miss Josephine Keane was in charge of the entire May Fete. Student body managers were Lee Dailey and Mary Taylor. Six assistant managers were chosen. They were: Ddwain Vincent, Karl Fickes, John Lukens, Edith Welch, Margaret Simpson, and Jo Betty Wickes. Miss Evelyn Wenstrom was faculty manager and J. A. Burt was financial manager. Faculty committees were: Art, Miss Mary Hollingshead; Properties, L. K. Perkins and Warren R. Adelman; Costumes, Miss Sarah Maberly; Music, Howard Deye.

The theme of the May Fete was the immigrants' quest for citizenship in America, with the Goddess of Liberty as the central figure.

R.O.T.C.

The battalion drills at Lemp Triangle and at the Barracks during good weather. When weather does not permit drilling, the cadets are grouped into classes and instructed in map reading, scouting and patrolling, rifle marksmanship, military courtesy, military hygiene and first aid by the Cadet officers.

The annual federal inspection was held May 5 at the Barracks. Lieutenant Colonel J. G. Pillow, U.S. Cadet R.O.T.C. officer of the Ninth Corps Area, reviewed the cadets. Drills, ceremonies and tests in the theoretical classes constituted the day's activities.

Horace Quarles is captain of the rifle team, which ranks thirtieth in the rifle matches for high schools in the Ninth Corps Area.

One of the outstanding social events of the year was the Military Ball for past and present members of the R.O.T.C., held February 22 at the Columbian Club hall.

The cadets elected sponsors in February. Miss Josephine Keane is faculty sponsor; Lucille Nelson, Battalion sponsor; Kathryn Nicholson, Company A; Esther Flenner, Company B; Clarita Dailey, Band. The honor of being a sponsor is one of the greatest achievements for Boise High School girls.

Kenneth Robertson is Cadet Major in command of the Battalion for this year. The staff is as follows: M. Knox, captain and adjutant; J. Perry, captain and personnel adjutant; H. Martineau, sergeant major; E. Smith, J. R. Woodruff, color sergeants; H. Quarles, drum major. J. Crowe is cadet captain for Company A; D. Forney and J. Ireton, first lieutenants; J. Edlefsen and D. Klopfer, second lieutenants; E. Hoffman, first sergeant. Officers for Company B are: K. Heilig, captain; R. Krummes and V. Gilbert, first lieutenants; B. Nash, second lieutenant; R. Strawn, first sergeant.

Girls' Glee Club

Music

Under the capable supervision of Howard Deye, instrumental instructor, and Donald Foltz, vocal teacher, the orchestras and glee clubs are finishing a successful season, taking honors in both the district and state music contests, and furnishing entertainment for many school functions.

The Pep Band, organized in the early fall, played at football and basketball games and helped stir up enthusiasm among the students for the athletic contests. Emblems designed by the Art Department were worn by all members.

In October the Music Department presented a free concert in the auditorium to which the citizens of Boise were invited.

Student musicians from the entire state met in Boise at Thanksgiving time to play in the All-State Band. Several Boise High School students were members of this group.

Seven Boise High School musicians were members of the Northwest High School Orchestra which met in Spokane April 6, 7, 8 and 9. Boise students who played in the orchestra were: Elmer Fox, Merle McKaig, Neola Fox, Virginia Fox, Elden McConnell, Weldon Leonardson and Jun Yamamoto. The orchestra was made up of superior musicians recruited from high schools throughout the Northwest.

Boys' Glee Club

To help defray the expenses of Boise's entrants in the state music contest, a recital was given the evening of March 20, at which time the glee clubs and orchestras presented many pleasing selections.

On April 13 the winners of the local music contest journeyed to Nampa to return with sixteen first places out of twenty events entered in the district contest. The winners of the district contest were eligible to compete in the state contest which was held at Pocatello April 24 and 25.

Boise High School took second honors in the state meet, winning five first places, eight second, and seven third. The events in which Boise placed first were: viola solo, Merle McKaig; senior orchestra; mixed chorus; French horn, Eldon McConnell; string trio, Elmer, Neola and Virginia Fox. The seconds were: soprano, Mary Ellen Burns; tenor, Dean Goserud; alto, Ruth Estell; bass, Wallace Pefley; violin, Raymond Vaught; saxophone, Clarence Heuck; male quartet; mixed quartet. Third places fell to mezzo-soprano, Arline Booth; cornet, Fred Bellamy; 'cello, Leilah Foster; flute, Virginia Fox; band; boys' glee club and girls' glee club.

in the school auditorium to display their talents before relatives and friends.

The boys' glee club is as follows: Amos Anderson, David Belsher, Francis Barnard, Bob Chilton, Ira Evans, John Fairchild, Lewis Folsom, Kenneth Garvin, Dean Goserud, Bernard Holden, Walter Johnson, Louis Keeth, Mahlon Leonard, William McLeod, Wallace Pefley, Horace Quarles, Robert Sproat, Raymond Strawn, Robert Strawn, Avery Thomas, Raymond Vaught, Ralph Walker, Belmyn Wicks, Gordon Wildman, Roy Wood, Don Zimmerman, and Merle McKaig.

Those in the girls' glee club are: Mildred Ash, Frances Bernard, Helene Cope, Jena Dingle, Leone Fergus, Mildred Gill, Virginia Hendershot, Ellen Hicks, Neva Lane, Leone Musser, Peggy Oliver, Jane Pittman, Marian Roberts, Helen Rowell, Ethel Saxton, Margaret Scott, Mary Taylor, Elva Simpson, Margaret Skiff, LaDorise Thamert, Helen Turner, Gwendolyn Williams, Virginia Woodhead, Thelma Worthington, Lorraine Beymer, Dorothy Boeck, Arline Booth, Mary Ellen Burns, Maxine Cordon, Laura Edgar, Ruth Estell, Catherine Evans, Marjorie Fine, Bertha Flick, Louise Gahley, Olga Greene, Lillian James, Lois Jones, Goldie Lowry, Zelda Lowry, Aloys Morgan, Mary Morris, Vivian Munro, Irene Nelson, Iretta Nokleby, Esther Pearson, Laura Peed, Etha Pefley, Phyllis Reese, Geneva Rigney, Alice Storey, Verna Strawn, Roxie Taylor, Ruth Taylor, Elaine Whitson, Margaret Williams, Nina Johnson.

Although Boise did not enter the state declamatory contest this year, a local one was held. Frances Smith won in the humorous division, Bea Pfeffer placed first in the dramatic section, and John Lukens took honors in the oratorical division. Miss Helen Mayer was in charge of the contest. Boise teachers were the judges. Over twenty high school students participated and Miss Mayer plans to enter the state contest next year.

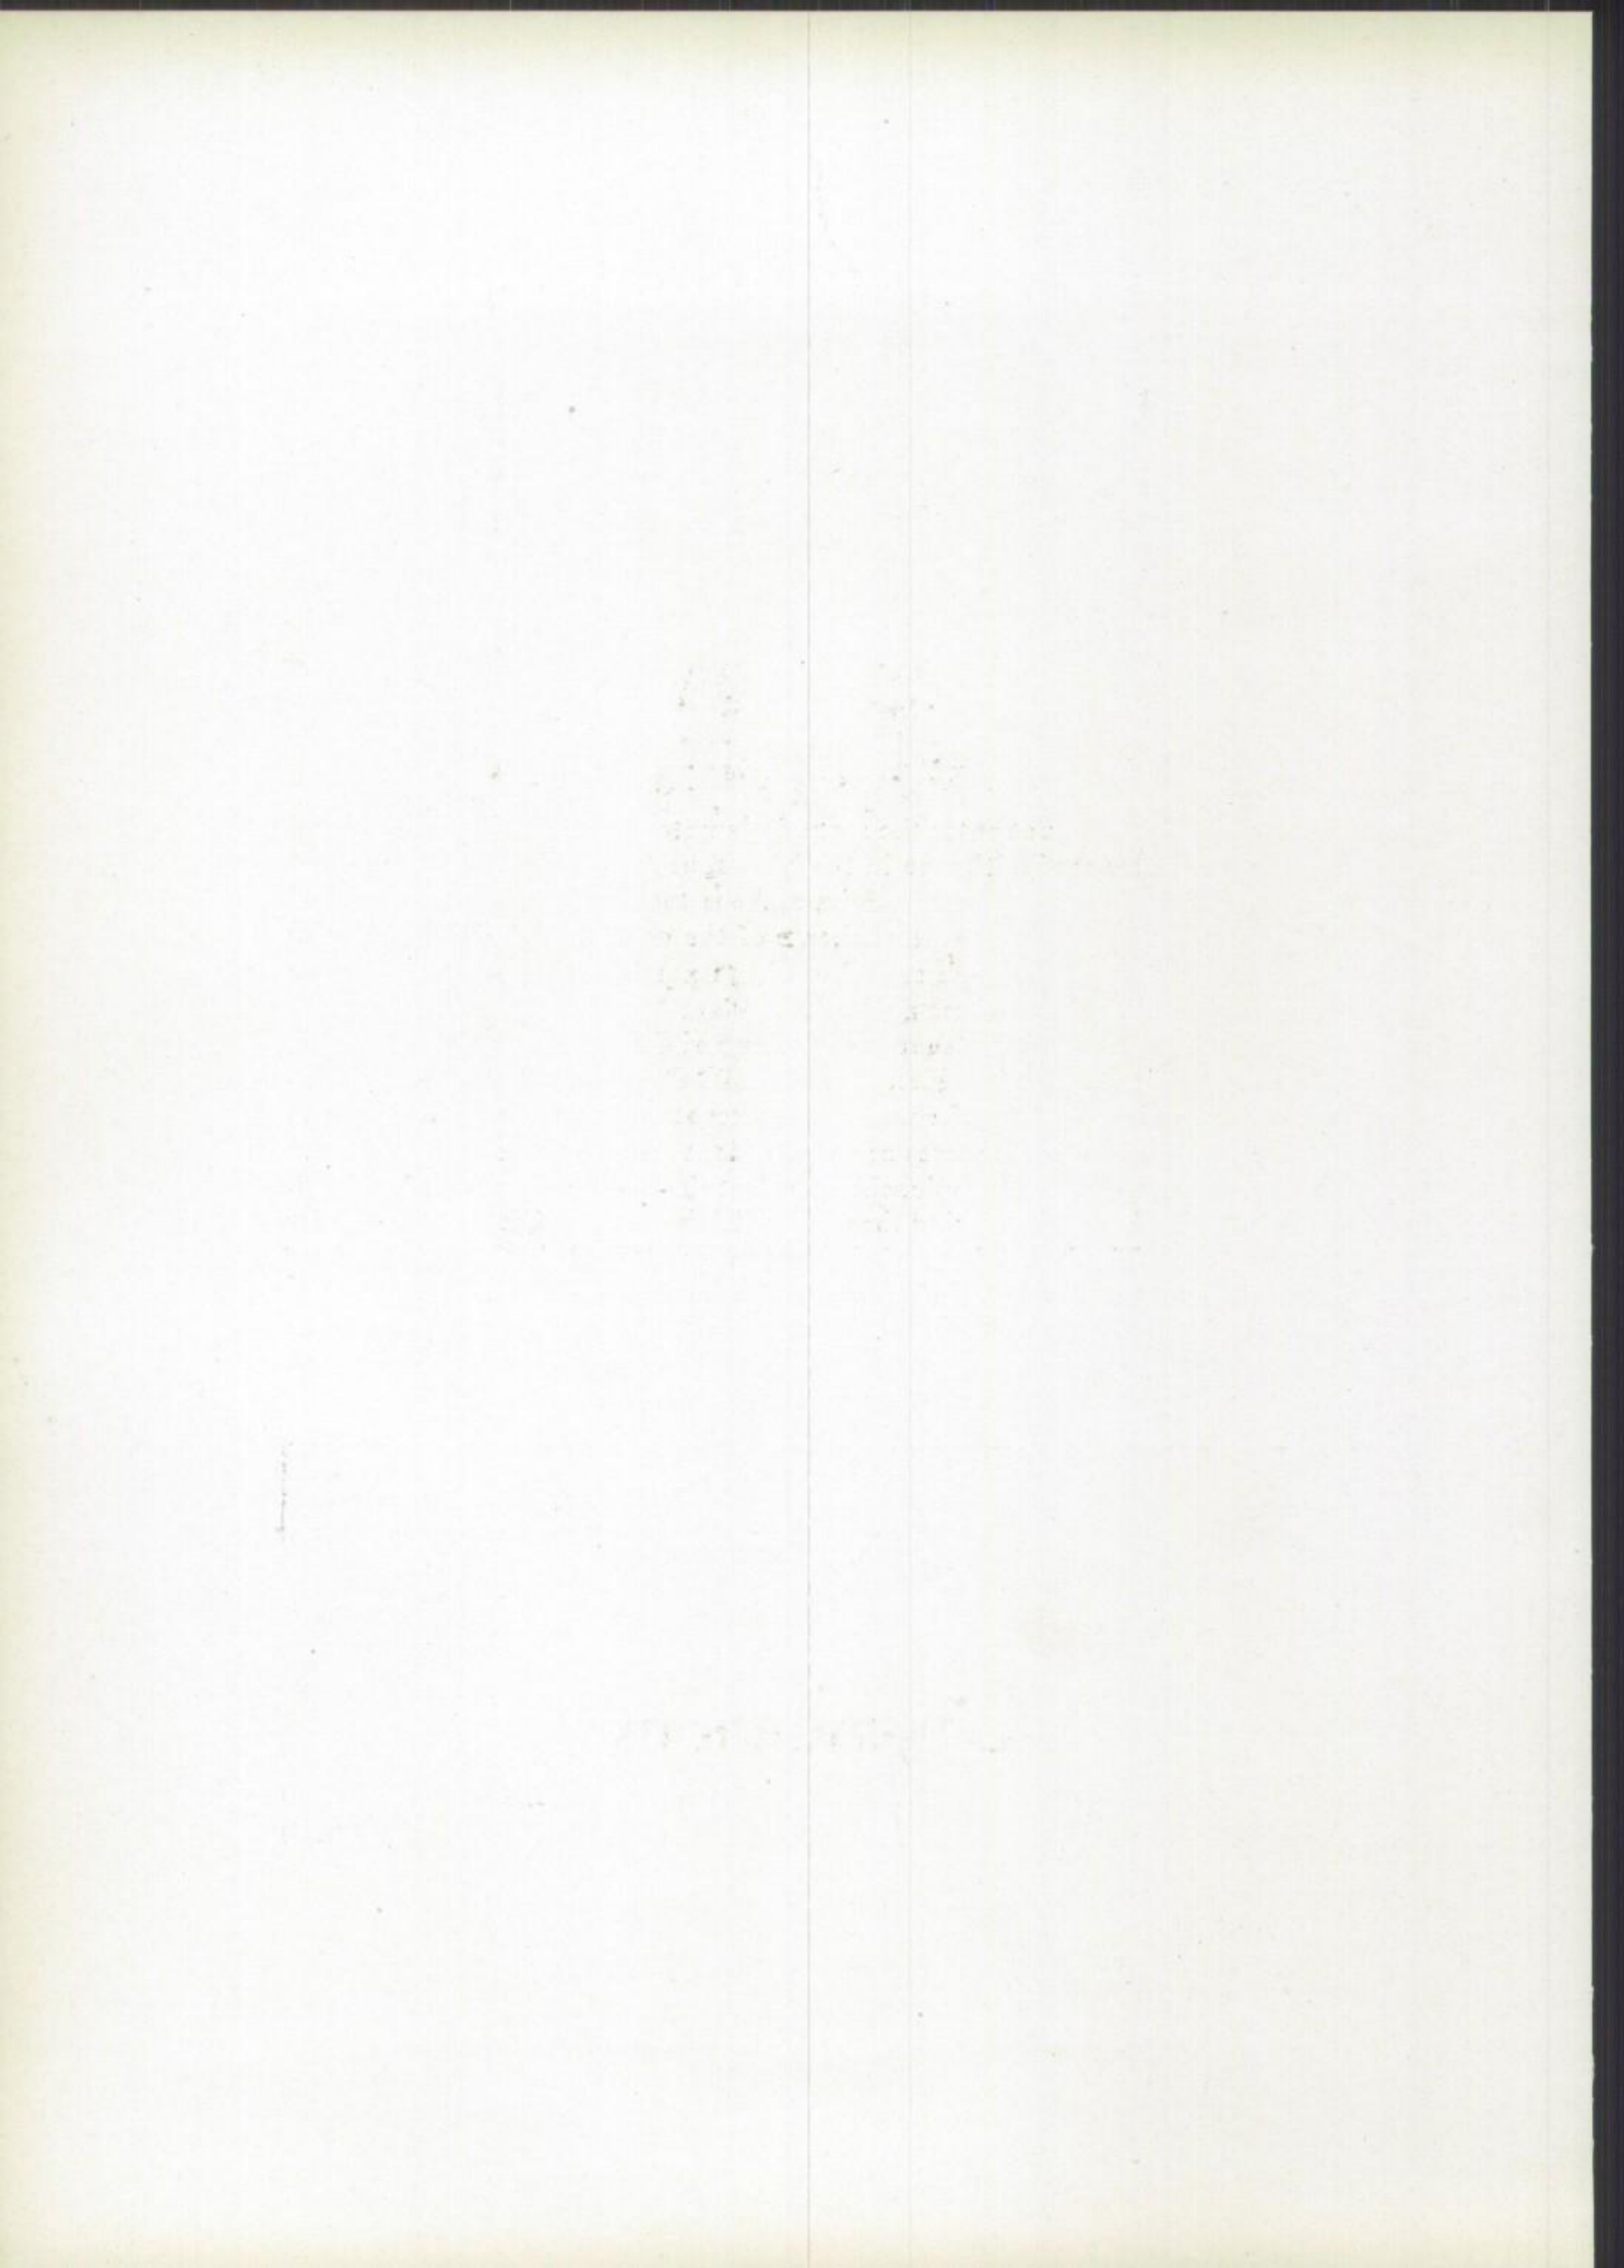

Boise's affirmative debate team was made up of Clyde Koontz, John Lukens, Ddwain Vincent and William Ketchen. Cordelia Gabriel, Wallace Pefley, Clarence Heuck and Dean Klopfer were on the negative team. The question was: RESOLVED, That the chain stores are a detriment to the welfare of our nation.

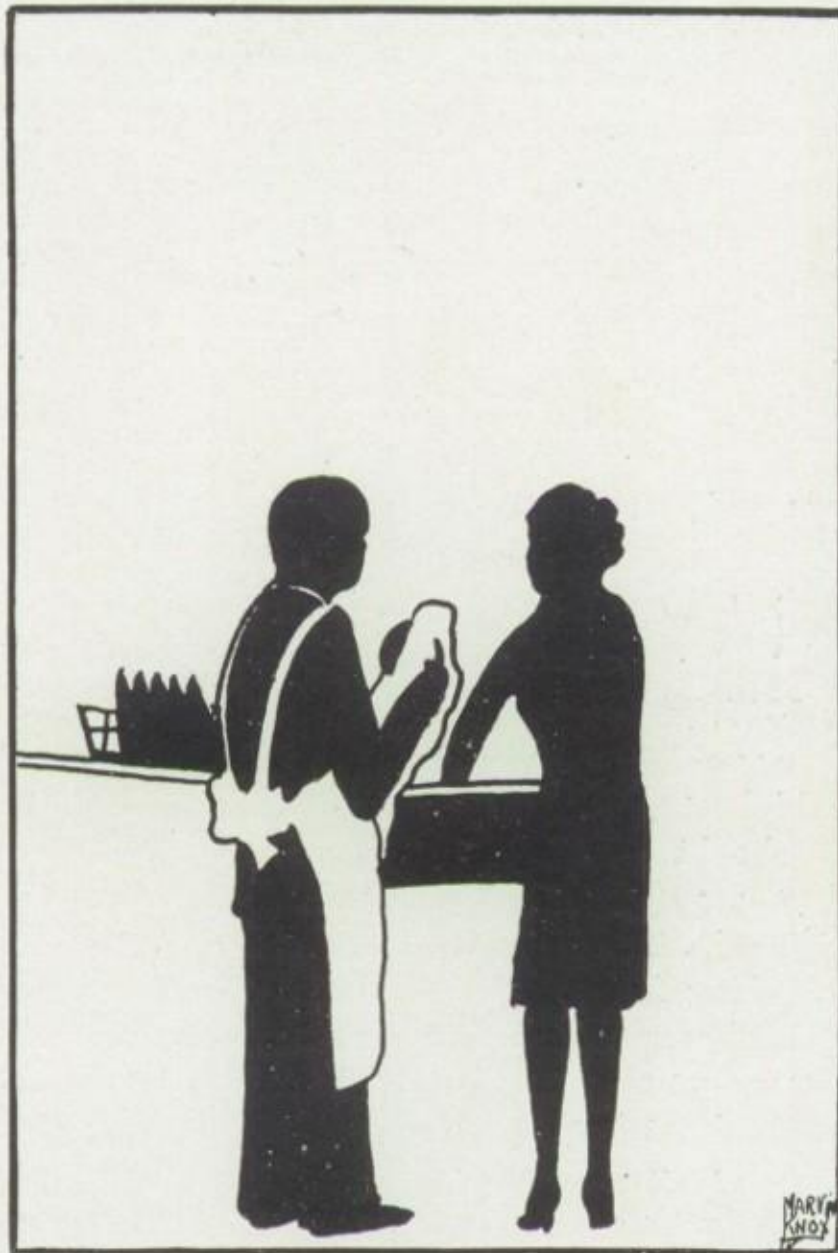

Boise won the district championship, but lost the southwestern district championship to Caldwell, thus giving the Caldwell debaters the right to compete for the state title. The last debate of the season was staged, both Boise's teams participating, at a meeting of the Parent-Teachers' Association.

The value of debate lies in the experience students derive in learning to think quickly and clearly, to present their opinions logically and concisely and in being compelled to analyze every side of a question.

National Honor Society

Since the year 1926, 121 students attending Boise High School have been given the signal honor of being elected members of the National Honor Society. This is one of the highest honors which may be conferred on any student in the course of his high school career. Members of the society are elected on the basis of excellent character, outstanding service and leadership in school activities, and superior scholarship. The members must stand scholastically in the upper third of the senior class; formerly the membership was taken from the upper fourth. Members are chosen twice each year. A small number is generally elected the last month of the first semester. At the end of the last semester enough are added to equal approximately fifteen per cent of the senior class.

Officers for this year are: Ruth Farley, president; Mary Taylor, vice-president; Alice Adams, secretary; Hallie Hansen, treasurer.

The faculty committee of the National Honor Society for 1930-31 is composed of the following teachers: Miss Emily T. Stewart, chairman; Mrs. Carrie Curtis, secretary; Miss Ida B. Marsh, John H. Sawyer, Miss Laura Lynn, Willis Coffin, Seth Freer, Miss Mary Hogarth, Miss Blanche Jeffrey, and Miss Emma Simmons.

The following are members who were elected the first semester: Alice Adams, Mary Cretors, Hallie Hansen, John Ireton, Leota Musgrove, Etha Pefley, Mary Taylor, Mary E. Wilkens, Jeanette Wines, James Ballard and Ruth Farley. Second semester members were announced late in the spring.

Girls' Club

The aim of the Girls' Club is to promote friendship and loyalty among the girls of Boise High School. Upon enrolling every girl automatically becomes a member of the club.

The Girls' Club Cabinet is composed of officers from every class, the senior cabinet members serving as general officers for the whole Girls' Club. The senior officers are: Maxine Austin, president; Rosamond Tenney, vice-president; Nina Varian, secretary; Esther Flenner, treasurer; Beverly Wicks, corresponding secretary. Junior officers are: Ruth Judge, president; Lucile Nelson, vice-president; Jo Betty Wicks, secretary; Margaret Simpson, treasurer. Sophomore officers are: Bonnie Raybourne, president; Melva Fitzwater, vice-president; Janis Black, secretary; Lucile Beetham, treasurer. Freshman officers are: Lona Jean Stewart, president; Shirley Miller, vice-president; Helen Church, secretary; Frances Harmon, treasurer.

The Girls' Club sponsors the "Big and Little Sister" movement. Every freshman girl has a "Big Sister" from the junior or senior class, to help her get acquainted. The girls gave a Mothers' Day assembly. They also staged a clever assembly early in the school year for the football players. In April Dean Permeal French of the University of Idaho spoke on the subject of education.

Miss Otness is new to the High School this year. She has held the welfare of the girls much at heart, and has aided them in their activities and problems.

Dramatic Club

In former years membership in the Dramatic Club has been determined by having the candidates try out. This year an entirely different system has been introduced. New members are chosen from the expression classes after demonstrating their talent and ability in class work. This latter method has been on trial for the year and is subject to approval or rejection at the close of school.

The club has put on its two annual major performances. In the fall a group of three one-act plays was presented, the new members taking the leading parts. These plays were: "Submerged," a tragedy; "In the Spring a Young Man's Fancy," a modern comedy; "The Clockshop," a clever fantasy. For the success of these plays Miss Helen Mayer, director, deserves much credit.

In the early part of April, 1931, the annual long play was presented, "The Black Flamingo," a historical mystery-thriller. The cast for this play was made up of advanced members of the club. Excellent work was done by every member of the cast, and unstinted praise is due Miss Mayer.

Other productions in addition to those already mentioned are several skits and programs presented at school assemblies to benefit financially a number of the school's organizations, and also further equip the stage and the club studio.

Club officers for the year are: Lee Dailey, president; Dean Kloepfer, vice-president; Nina Varian, secretary; Maxine Austin, treasurer.

Spanish Club

The Spanish Club, El Circulo Castellano, has as its motto "Para aprender el espanol, es necesario hablarlo." Its object is to promote an interest in the Spanish language among the students of Boise High School.

Harry E. McDonnell and Miss Karen Kieldsen, Spanish instructors, are the club's advisors. Officers of the club are: Esther Flenner, president; Milton Thurber, vice-president; Dale Matthews, secretary; Mildred Thode, treasurer.

During the school year the club has sponsored a number of dances, two of which were all-school dances. Private parties were also given for the members.

Senor Manuel Anduiza, a student in Spain for six years, addressed the club on college life in Spain, customs and dress. Mrs. Carolyn Longly, a well-known art critic, also talked to the members on Spanish Art.

Members are: Domingo Aldecoa, Rosa Asumendi, Marjorie Blaine, Alfred Day, Esther Flenner, Bruce Gralow, Winifred Harris, Pauline Johnson, Maxine Ledvina, Fern Leighton, Dale Matthews, Francis McMillon, Bert Nash, Irene Nelson, Della Newman, La Veta Osborne, Geneva Patterson, Stuart Pecora, Alice Porter, Milton Thurber, Mildred Thode and Sherma Wood.

Although the usual Spanish Club fantasy was not presented this year, the club sponsored two dances in the all-school Variety Show. Both dances were directed by Miss Gracia McAllister.

Quill and Scroll

The Quill and Scroll is a national honor society for high school journalists. To become a member, a student must have done some outstanding work in journalism, must be in the upper third of his class, scholastically, must be recommended by the faculty advisor, and must be approved by the national secretary of the society. Students are selected each semester.

During March nine new members were elected to the Boise Chapter, making a total of fourteen members. Officers are: William T. Roberts, president; Nina Varian, vice-president; Fbbie Hughes, secretary; Lee Dailey, treasurer. The faculty advisor is Dwight E. Mitchell.

Home Economics Club

To establish and strengthen the bonds of friendship, promote moral and intellectual development and an interest in home economics among the girls of Boise High School, is the purpose of the Home Economics Club.

Officers of the club are: Ruth Farley, president; Grace Fenton, vice-president; Joyce Peterson, secretary; Leota Musgrove, treasurer. Members of the club are: Greeta Adkins, Bernice Allen, Mildred Allen, Ruth Bell, Roberta Bowman, Wanda Brown, Beulah Chase, Mary Lillian Cook, Ruth Farley, Leona Frost, Grace Fenton, Ruthalee Geiger, Leota Musgrove, Della Newman, Cinda Peterson, Joyce Peterson, Marion Tharp and Margaret Wrath.

Members of the "B" Club

«B» Club

Shortly after the football season the 1930-31 members of the "B" Club began reorganizing. Jess Swan was elected president; Bob Krummes, vice-president; Philip Falk, secretary-treasurer; James Peterson, sergeant-at-arms.

The aim of the "B" Club is to create greater enthusiasm in athletics, promote fair play, good sportsmanship, and to cultivate friendly relations between Boise High School and competing schools. The club sponsored a number of all-school matinee dances and banquets in honor of visiting teams, and the members officiated at all basketball games and track meets, keeping order and supervising stunts.

Members of the Art Club

Art Club

To create and promote an active interest in artistic endeavor is the aim of the Art Club. During the school year the club has held bi-monthly meetings of a social or business nature. Shortly before the holidays the club held an art bazaar at which various pieces of art created by the members were sold. Preceding Christmas vacation a Christmas card sale was also held. Proceeds from these sales have been used to defray the club's expenses.

The club renders service to the school by preparing posters for various organizations. In addition to this, scenery for the Dramatic Club play, the May Fete and the school orchestra is furnished by the members.

Members of the History Club

History Club

The History Club was organized this year for the purpose of stimulating an interest in historical objects. The members have as their project a Historical Museum. During the school year several contributions were received, including a cabinet and several antiques.

Membership is limited to fifty members, twenty-five boys and twenty-five girls. Bids are given throughout the year. Members are taken from the junior and senior history classes. Meetings are held twice each month, at which social programs are featured. Perhaps the largest event of the year, sponsored by the club, was the program given to raise money for show cases for the museum.

Members of the Piano Club

Piano Club

During the first semester of this year the Piano Club was organized. It took for its object, "To create an interest in piano music, exchange experiences met in practice and in the study of piano compositions."

Membership in the club is active, inactive or associate. Active members are those who have studied or are studying the piano. Officers for the first semester are: Avery Thomas, president; Melva Fitzwater, vice-president; Francis Barnard, secretary-treasurer. Officers for the second semester are: Martha Bailey, president; George Dawson, vice-president; Ray Vaught, secretary-treasurer. The faculty sponsor for the club is Donald Foltz, vocal instructor.

Members of the G.A.A.

G. A. A.

The purpose of the Girls' Athletic Association is to promote interest in athletics among the girls of Boise High School. The girls had an assembly to raise money for their ward fund, and held a banquet honoring members of the girls' basketball team. The sports participated in this year are basketball, archery, volleyball, tennis, hiking, skating, coasting and tumbling. They also are in the May Fete. Each girl is awarded a numeral, letter, sweater, or chevron, according to the number of points she earns in the different sports.

Officers are: Lucile Nelson, president; Dorothy Kaeser, vice-president; Mary Taylor, secretary-treasurer.

Members of the Latin Club

Latin Club

The motto of Gens Togata is "Tes Latinas meliores studio consequi." To promote interest in the study of Latin is the purpose of the Latin Club.

This year members of the club voted to present prizes to outstanding Latin students just before the close of the school year. To meet expenses the club sold sandwiches at the football games. Miss Mary Hogarth and Miss Evelyn Wenstrom are club advisors. Officers are: Etha Pefley, president; Clarine Riordan, vice-president; Eileen Peck, secretary; Margaret Simpson, treasurer. The club sponsored a skit in the Variety Show, demonstrating the necessity of Latin, and how it may be put to practical use.

Members of the Printing Club

Printing Club

The Printing Club was organized in the spring of 1930 for the purpose of developing an interest in vocational printing.

During the year the club has written, printed and published a humorous booklet entitled "Chuckles." The funds accruing from the sale of this booklet have been used to defray club expenses.

Club advisors are W. O. Lemón and H. L. Straight. First semester officers are: Charles Allen, president; Albert Moncarr, vice-president; Albert Carlton, secretary-treasurer. Second semester officers are: Albert Moncarr, president; Bill Carlton, vice-president; Wilbur Leonard, secretary-treasurer.

Members of the F.F.A.

Future Farmers of America

Although organized in Boise High School in the fall of 1929, the local chapter of the Future Farmers of America did not receive its state charter until June, 1930.

The purpose of the organization is to create more interest in the intelligent choice of farming occupations. The motto is "Bigger and Better Projects." The club's colors are gold and national blue.

This year the club has been especially active. In the five judging contests the club entered, two silver loving cups and four medals were won. The organization's advisor was John Bauer, agriculture instructor.

Members of the Hi-Y Club

Hi-Y Club

The Hi-Y Club has as its purpose: "To create, maintain and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character."

During the year the club sponsored a mid-year party to foster a feeling of friendliness in the school, and a basketball banquet for the victorious and runner-up teams of the basketball tournament.

Paul Ensign, science instructor, was club advisor. Officers are: John Ireton, president; Clyde McBirney, vice-president; Milton Thurber, program secretary; Lee Dailey, membership secretary; James Prince, business secretary; Marvin Knox, treasurer.

Girl Reserves Cabinet

Girl Reserves

The code and slogan of the Girl Reserves is, "To face life squarely and to find and give the best." The events in the school that the organization has taken up and sponsored are: Freshman assembly, freshman splash party, Hallowe'en party, Thanksgiving basket for the poor, Christmas fireside, Christmas vesper service, Christmas tree and baskets for the unfortunate, father-daughter banquet, Easter assembly and an Easter egg hunt for the Children's Home, mother-daughter tea, the senior farewell, and the installation of new officers.

Members of the Library Staff

Library Staff

The staff of student assistants in our high school library does much to make the library an attractive, efficient place in which students may do their reference and recreational reading. The duties of the staff members include such tasks as keeping the tables cleared of material not in use; proper shelving of books and other reading matter; sending of notices to students who owe books or fines; filing; research and reference work; charging and discharging books at the student assistant desk added to the library this past year.

Staff meetings are held each Monday during the activity advisory period. At these meetings staff problems are discussed and reference helps studied.

The purpose of the Stage Manager's Society is to handle all theatrical performances in the Boise High School Auditorium. In order that the members may do their work adequately, the club is divided into four departments: the carpenter department handles all set pieces; the property department handles tables, chairs, etc.; the electrical department takes care of the lighting effects; the fly department handles all pieces of scenery on ropes. In this way the boys learn by doing.

Officers of the society are: Forrest Whisler, president; Roy Brewer, vice-president; Wallace Cowen, secretary-treasurer.

FACULTY

Directed hysterically by the famous Melen Hayer. Adapted from the stage play "Burning Kisses" by Harry Ann Morgarth, censored recently in Chicago by the All-American Bored and brought here at much sacrifice by the Cudent Souncil.

Heading the all-star cast of this soul-stirring, dynamic, pulsating drama, we find those winsome, witless two—

ZEDDIE and POPPIE

Supporting these two headless hits we find Kitty Dimple, L'Ara d'Otness, Carrie del Ustick, the Stewart Twins, and many others.

You can't afford to miss Zeddie playing his own accompaniment and rendering in his old Southern style, "The Prisoner's Song" and "Raise the Mugs to B.H.S."

You'll shriek at the wisecracks, you'll chuckle at the antics, you'll adore the cleverness of these supreme actors. You'll run the gamut of emotions in "Faculty Follies."

FOLLIES

Poppie Sawyer, Everybody's Favorite, is presented in an entirely different role, leaving his usual hilarious character to execute wistfully, exquisitely, the Highland Fling.

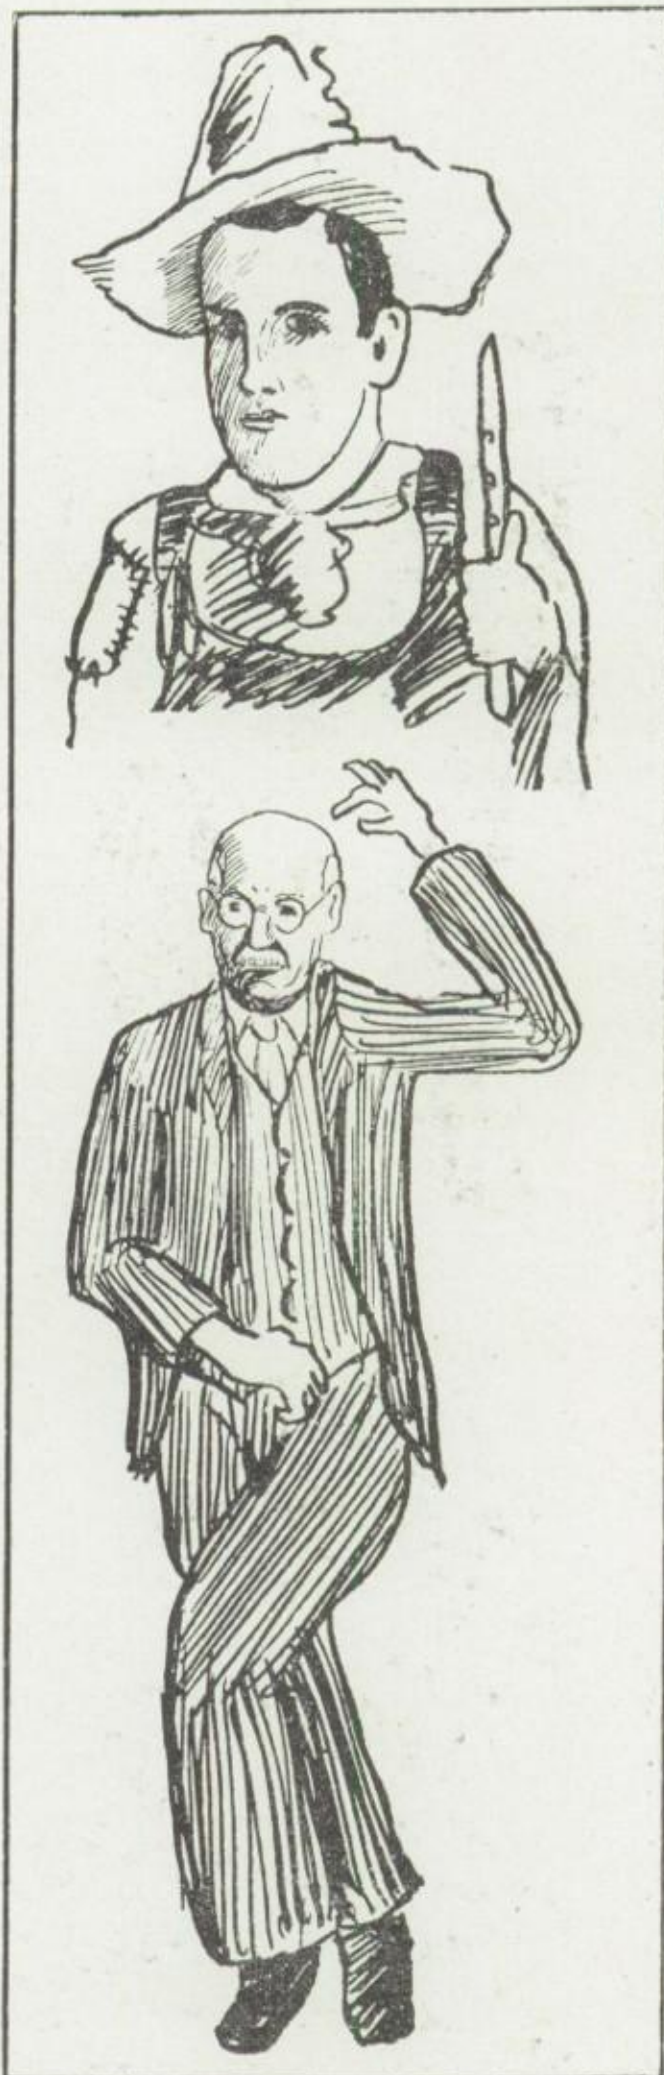

Hoytie Cooper in his dual role of Santa Claus and the lonesome lover brings unstinted praise from all critics between this city and the farthestmost Kuna Cave.

S. T. Freer plays feelingly the passionate role of the man who has lost everything—home, family, friends, money, position, and who bravely sets out for his little grey home in the west. He is accompanied by his Jew's harp.

Mernal Coses makes the hit of his career—graceful, Grecian, garbless, posing in a living picture (with sound effects).

Baby Willie Coffin, fondly dubbed by adoring millions "The Smiling Fool," is at his jolliest best in this show of shows. You will always carry with you a deep and profound regret if you don't see his dramatization of Baby's Birthday Party.

Just Between Us Girls

EDITOR'S NOTE.—Even editor's write 'em! But since the popular and educational past-time of writing notes continues to amuse the brilliant intellects of B.H.S., it seems only fitting and proper that out of our personal, although not necessarily private, collection, we should select two of the—shall we say "choiciest"?—for your edification. It is with regret that we find it inadvisable, for various reasons, to print any more than these two.

Honey Dear:

I'm writing this in library. I can hardly wait to see Don after this period 'cause he was telling us all about how M.H. broke her date with J.S. Saturday and then Miss Miller moved him she's looking at me kind of funny—gosh, I'd die if anyone read this. Gee, hon, I'm sorry about you and Jim. I'd tell him to go straight to if I were you. You know I wouldn't tell you but I think you ought to know and honest kid I'm your pal I don't mean to hurt you, you're to sweet a dear but gee I know how crazy about him you are. I got a note from Jim this morning and he told me all about everything—you know what I mean I'll tell you as soon as I see you long enough—honest he said more stuff. I said I wouldn't tell so don't breathe a word—of course he'll never know. Isn't that just too crude about Betty and Harriet? I hope their folks don't find out I told them to be careful but you know how I rate around there ever since Bill dropped Harriet and started going with me. She told me herself anyway she said it in a note to Bill that I found, that they actually threw over three dozen eggs, and they would have had more if someone hadn't swiped a gob of them. Boy, I sure know a secret—J.L. is just crazy about Frances—I know because I found one of his notes. Honestly now don't you think she's the biggest mess? Sweet kid and everything but not really refined you know what I mean, no fooling she played me the dirtiest trick once some day I'll break down and tell you all about it. Oh I'm so mad I could scream—Fred just grabbed all my notes out of my history book and I don't dare ask John to get them back if he should read them! hon he is so sweet. Wait 'til I tell you the cute thing he said to me last night. There's the bell and I have to dash be sure to tear this note up right away. I wouldn't have Jim or John know what I said for the world. Love.—H.Y.

P.S.—Hope we go to the informal together. What are you going to wear. I think I'll wear my pink. Tell me the truth now do you think it's all right I mean I really want to know.

H. Darling:

That sure is terrible about the notes. I hope Bill doesn't show anyone but you know he will the sneak, he got some of mine once and that's what he meant by that dirty crack just before the first period. I'd sure like to pop the old meanie. But kid no fooling I'm sunk in a big way. I don't think he really likes H.G. do you? I mean I don't see how he could if he only knew what I know about her I think he's just trying to make me jealous don't you. Thanks a lot for the help hon. Ruth told a bunch of us all about that this morning in science she doesn't want it spread around so don't say anything. They got caught alright, but they pulled a big line about it being the first time and everything and they didn't have to pay a fine. Oh of course this Bob person is alright but honestly he's so dumb and everything and he soft soaps anyone even B. rated dates with him but maybe I can use him too. It all depends on the old big shot himself hon, it would be just perfect of you if you would—you know sort of get it across to Jim that I haven't a date to the Prom and—well, you know. You have such a big drag with him hon—and about a million other people I could mention. You look just perfect in that pink dress, but what in the world am I going to wear I just haven't got a thing. Don't worry, dear, nobody will see it I keep all my notes together and then burn them up when I get a big pile. I'll meet you in the hall this noon. Pitch ball for me won't you. I'll be seeing you hon.

JANE.

May we revise the old proverb that says: "He that sitteth upon a hot stove shall rise therefrom"—

And say: "He that leaneth against a hot radiator shall be moved away therefrom"?

And I Says to Hoover—

The secret of my success? Oh, certainly. Upon beginning my intellectual career with the usual entree in the grade schools, the principal approached me and commended me, not unduly, upon my apparent manliness and even more apparent intelligence.

"My boy," he said, "surely we must start you in the third grade." But my inherent modesty rose to the occasion and prevented my accepting this honor.

"No, prince, I'll start in the first grade with the rest of the boys. I want nothing I do not deserve. I have resolved to fight for everything I get and accept nothing I have not earned." Now, do not think I was conceited. I could easily have started in the fourth grade. However, I maintained my resolution and took only my just rewards. For example, when my grades were verging between a 1 and a 2, I always insisted on a 3. Not only that, but I always got the 3.

And then I entered dear old Boise Hi. Principal Bunged Up Toy and Coach Foren Faster met me at the door, their faces wreathed in smiles. They knew they were dealing with more than common stuff. Immediately Toy explained a new policy he was instituting for my benefit. He termed it "lazy fare" and it sounded like poor pickings to me. However, when he spoke in words of one syllable my super-intelligence was quick to pick up the meaning. I gathered that he wanted me to follow the example of such well-known upperclassmen as Bill Timber and J. Prudence Davis. Then the coach insisted upon immediately awarding me four-striped sweaters in all the sports, knowing, of course, that I would startle the athletic world with my prowess and win them anyway. However, I could not find it in my heart to destroy the hopes and aspirations of Baldy Bobson, the Emmett egg merchant, and Philip Mercantile, so I refused his offer, biding the time that I would win glory honorably in actual combat. Once again I said, "No, gentlemen, I must fight my way to the top."

Did I mention that I even insisted upon being placed in a freshman advisory? Yes, such was my self-chosen fate, and so I graced the humble room presided over by Jake Straight-Eight. Of course the atmosphere could hardly be called elevating, but I consoled myself with the thought that I would still be the pal of the big shots—namely, i.e., viz., to-wit: Punch(drunk) M., Jimmy Whataman Path, Horton Bloodhound S., Jean Forshaken T., and Pretzel Hearty. But no, a combination of this sort would spell disaster to my sensitive nature, so I resisted it. The atmosphere surrounding these older and more hardened thugs attending the institution was too vice-laden. It is a mystery to me how Sprint-King F. maintained both his track reputation and his taste for Chesterfield cubebs. Perhaps the eternal boiler-stoking generated his power. As for the others, they were all bottle fed babies who just couldn't outgrow the habit. On the other hand, how can students learn to better their habits if the school persists in sending them to Pocatello on annual goodwill missions? Everyone knows that the Gate City soda pop is too heady for mere band urchins. But I digress. I intended to recount my choice between Eta Eta Eta, the strict moral and religious club, and the local Fie Bate organization, commonly termed the "scholarship honorary." Of course I joined the Etas, although fear of the bold, bad Fie Bate pansies almost sidetracked me.

To make a long story short and less disgusting, I hit the ball hard from the start, ignored the Poetic Marine's weekly lemon, and took the hard knocks as they came. I know my grades will be all 1's, but that is not so good. Realizing my importance to the Student Body and the fact that I'm everyone's idol, I shall have to maintain my own set standards. I shall speak to my teachers in the morning, not as an equal but as a characteristic Boise High student. I shall demand straight flunks—I'm sure I can rate them if I use my influence. As a final word, let me repeat my success formula: "Fight for everything you get and take nothing you do not deserve." In that way one owes nobody and can remind the faculty that such signs as

No Bothersome Stags

No Smoke-Laden Atmosphere

No Liquor to Outrage Your Dignity

are somewhat misleading, to put it nicely.
